Open Probe Into Southern Campus Deaths

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — The state attorney general's office began a full-scale inquiry today into last Thursday's clash at Southern University in which two students were shot to death.

Atty. Gen. William Guste said late Sunday he had assigned two assistants, one black, one white, to conduct the inquiry requested by Gov. Edwin Edwards, of Louisiana.

Guste said the investigation would be conducted in secret. University administrators, meanwhile, were moving quickly to fire faculty members they said had encouraged student protests, and Edwards was branding as "totally inaccurate" a newspaper story that he had blamed a deputy sheriff for the deaths.

The students, Denver A. Smith of New Roads, La., and Leonard Douglas Brown of Gilbert, La., both 20, were struck in the head and shoulders by buckshot as state police and sheriff's deputies scattered a crowd gathered in front of the university's administration building.

The violence climaxed three weeks of student protests at the nation's largest predominantly black college, and led to the closing of the school at least through the Thanksgiving holidays.

Southern's branch at New Orleans, the scene of similar campus turmoil in recent weeks, was closed through the coming week, too. But administrators reported the faculty and students there had reached accord on some of the differences separating them.

Focus of the attorney general's investigation apparently will be the 30-minute-long explosion of violence that left the two students dead.

Kissinger, Tho Pound Out Vietnam War Peace Accord

B52s Aid Viet Units At Quang Tri

SAIGON (AP) — Flying at 35,000 feet above monsoon thunderstorms, waves of U.S. B52 bombers dropped 1,200 tons of radar-guided bombs on North Vietnamese positions just below the demilitarized zone, military spokesmen reported today.

At least 44 North Vietnamese troops were killed in the fighting Saturday and Sunday, while government losses were at least 12 killed and 78 wounded, according to communiques from the Saigon command and field reports.

Despite the stiff resistance and heavy rains, field reports said the marines, backed by an armored column, had advanced about two miles and expanded their area of operations to a coastal strip of land 8 miles north-northeast of Quang Tri city.

It was the stiffest resistance encountered by the marines since they recaptured Quang Tri City Sept. 16. The North Vietnamese still control most of the province, and the South Vietnamese are trying to get back what they can before a cease-fire.

U.S. military sources disclosed that war materials were still flowing southward through the DMZ to enemy troops, despite the monsoon-swollen Ben Hai river which is the dividing line through the six-mile-wide buffer zone. Some troop replacements also are moving in, but no new units are crossing, the sources said.

Elsewhere in South Vietnam, Communist forces killed at least 14 South Vietnamese and wounded 22 in ambushes and mortar and grenade attacks near Saigon, Da Nang and Pleiku, and in Long My, a district town in the Mekong Delta.

Military sources reported another three government troops were killed and 66 were wounded when a grenade carried by a South Vietnamese soldier accidentally went off at a helicopter pickup point near An Loc.

Radio Hanoi claimed that two U.S. F4 phantom jets were shot down Saturday in Thanh Hoa province, just below the 20th parallel bombing restriction line. It made no mention of the fate of the pilots.

The U.S. Command did not report any losses, but it has a policy of not disclosing downed aircraft if rescue operations are still in progress.

The U.S. Command reported that American fighter-bombers flew only 40 strikes in the southern panhandle of North Vietnam Sunday, the third successive day the number fell below 50. Officials again attributed the curtailment to the weather.

Thieu Seen Chief Obstacle To Agreement

PARIS (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger resumed his secret peace negotiations with Hanoi's Le Duc Tho in Paris today amid indications that their governments are determined to seek a quick settlement.

The chief obstacle appeared to be the South Vietnamese government's insistent demand for withdrawal of all North Vietnamese troops from South Vietnam. But Kissinger gave no indication how strongly he would insist on this point.

President Nixon's chief foreign policy adviser said on his arrival Sunday that if Tho and his associate Xuan Thuy showed "the same spirit of understanding and flexibility which characterized our meetings in October, a rapid settlement of the war is probable."

Kissinger and Tho drafted an agreement last month calling for an on-the-spot cease-fire throughout South Vietnam, followed by withdrawal of all American forces, release of all prisoners of war and elections in South Vietnam under international supervision.

North Vietnam set an Oct. 31 deadline for signing the agreement, but the United States refused to be rushed. Kissinger told a news conference in Washington on Oct. 26 some details still needed clarification but added:

"We have given a commitment that a text that will be agreed to at the next session will be the final text and that no new changes will be proposed."

While publicly accusing the United States of stalling, North Vietnamese officials in Paris contended privately that this was a commitment to finalize the text at the current session. These officials expressed concern over reports from Washington that Kissinger will seek Saigon's approval of the "final" draft and may ask for still another negotiating session with Tho to make the agreement acceptable to Saigon.

"In this way, it may never end," one Hanoi official said. President Nguyen Van Thieu's South Vietnamese openly described the October draft as a sellout, and the Viet Cong said it represented the "absolute maximum" of concessions the Communists could make.

Thieu's major objection is that the draft does not explicitly require the withdrawal of all North Vietnamese troops from South Vietnam. Hanoi spokesmen have repeatedly said North Vietnam will not even discuss the withdrawal of its troops, asserting that this would "put the American aggressor on the same level as the victims of aggression."

Thieu has insisted that negotiations between his government and the Viet Cong provided for in the draft should take place before — not after — signing of the agreement.

"The Communists want us to sign first and then negotiate," a Saigon spokesman said. "We want to negotiate first and then sign what we have agreed to."

President Maps 2nd-Term Plans

THURMONT, Md. (AP) — President Nixon, launching his second week at Camp David, scheduled a day-long series of conferences today with six top administration officials to map second-term plans.

As the President stepped up reorganization operations at his Maryland mountaintop retreat, Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler joined his boss for the forthcoming week. Ziegler said he was canceling his daily White House briefings for the duration of his stay at Camp David.

It appears Nixon and his family will stay here through the Thanksgiving holiday, but Ziegler refrained from any official announcement of the holiday plans.

Willy Brandt Wins Adenauer - Like Election Victory

By ROON LEWALD Associated Press Writer

BONN (AP) — Like Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in years gone by, Willy Brandt bet heavily on the popularity of his own leader image and won a massive Adenauer-style election victory on Sunday.

Brandt's Christian Democratic opponents, who still revere Adenauer as their grand old man, had powerful domestic issues going for them. But observers said their party leader, Rainer Barzel, couldn't match either Brandt or Adenauer in projecting the kind of statesmanlike appeal that leader-conscious West Germans respond to.

Brandt and his Socialist-Liberal coalition often seemed in deep trouble before the election, which Brandt was forced to call a year ahead of schedule after defecting lawmakers took away his slim parliamentary majority. He faced record price rises which aroused memories of galloping inflation and economic misery in the wake of the two world wars.

But his personalized campaign style under the slogan "Willy Brandt must remain Chancellor" focused attention on his Nobel Prize-winning role as a mediator between East and West. This was aided by the skillful timing of his historic normalization treaty with East Germany only 11 days before the voting.

By contrast, the Christian Democrats were saddled with a far less popular, younger and less authoritative-seeming candidate whom they were forced to portray as member of a leadership team rather than an unquestioned leader in his own right. "We build progress on stability," Christian Democratic campaign posters proclaimed, showing Barzel together with three top party figures.

Barzel at times also seemed overshadowed by powerful Franz-Josef Strauss, the bull-necked firebrand who leads the opposition's Christian Social Union sister party in Bavaria. Brandt's men built Strauss up as a right-wing bogeyman they claimed was the "secret chancellor" behind Barzel.

Blaze Hits Big Carrier; No Injuries

SAIGON (AP) — A fire broke out under the flight deck of the carrier America during operations off the coast of Vietnam Sunday, but it was quickly brought under control with no injuries to any of the 5,000 crewmen, the 7th Fleet announced today.

A spokesman said the 80,000-ton carrier continued air operations after the fire in a "relatively inaccessible catapult room." This is a room under the flight deck where high pressure steam trunks join to provide steam to catapult aircraft into the sky.

The 7th Fleet ruled out sabotage, saying insulation around the steam lines began to burn, "apparently as the result of spontaneous combustion."

"Although assessment of all the damage has not been completed, initial investigation indicates that the damage is being repaired by ship's personnel," the Navy said in a statement. "The America remains off the coast of Vietnam and is continuing her combat role."

Push Reduction Of Stroke Toll

High Blood Pressure Treatment Lagging?

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Heart specialists say that the high toll of death and disability from strokes in the United States might be reduced significantly with better treatment of high blood pressure.

A half-million Americans suffer strokes each year, and 200,000 of them die.

As many as 100,000 cases might be prevented with better detection and treatment of high blood pressure, said specialists attending scientific sessions of the American Heart Association.

The problems of hypertension — high blood pressure — emerged as a major concern among physicians attending the meeting, which ended Sunday.

Stroke is the third leading cause of death in the United States and among the top three in 39 other countries.

Hypertension, one of the causes of stroke, afflicts an estimated 22 million Americans. Only about half of these cases have been diagnosed. This is what concerns physicians.

Once diagnosed, the problem can be brought under control, although not cured, with several drugs. Persistent high blood pressure can lead not only to stroke but to heart disease and kidney failure.

Some 1.7 million Americans are living with the disabilities that follow stroke — some totally disabled, unable to walk or speak or move in bed.

While stroke costs the United States $4.6 billion a year, the figures "cannot possibly reveal the extent of personal hardship and suffering for victims of stroke and members of their families," said Dr. Nemat O. Borhani of the University of California, Davis.

Searchers Locate 5 Girls Lost In Florida Swampland

ORMOND BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Huddled together in a "fort" made of palm fronds, five frightened little girls sang Christmas carols through the night to keep their spirits up while 1,500 volunteers searched for them in the swampy woods near their home.

The 17-hour ordeal for the five, ranging in age from 2 to 11, ended Sunday morning when a helicopter spotted them standing on a muddy creek bank and directed ground crews to them.

"Are mom and dad looking for us?" asked 11-year-old Tonya Morgan.

"The whole country is looking for you," replied the first searcher to reach the girls. Dirty, wet, scratched and bruised from frequent falls — but otherwise unharmed — the girls were immediately reunited with their parents.

"Mother came running down the road to us with her arms spread wide open," said Tonya, who shared the ordeal with her three younger sisters: Elisha, 10, Carla, 7, and Angela, 2, and schoolmate Karen Llewellyn, 11.

"We got lost," Tonya said. "We followed those stupid dogs."

The girls went for a walk with Karen's two dogs, a mongrel named Poochie and a German shepherd named Lady, after the girls and Mrs. Michael Morgan surprised Karen's mother, Colin Llewellyn, with a birthday party Saturday.

"Poochie saw a raccoon and chased it," chubby brown-haired Karen said. "We ran after him. Pretty soon we didn't know where we were. We've only lived out here a couple weeks and I don't know the place."

Sheriff Ed Duff said the girls probably were never more than a mile from home. But the dense woods along the north bank of the Tomoka River a few miles outside of Daytona Beach made search operations difficult.

"I wasn't afraid until it got dark," Tonya said. "Eli and I are Girl Scouts but we never camped out in the woods. We tried to huddle together to keep warm."

"We sang Christmas carols and other songs to keep Angela from crying," Karen added. "It was my 33rd birthday," Mrs. Llewellyn said after the girls were found. "It was the worst I ever had. I aged 10 years."

Disclose 2 Dozen Sabotage Attacks On Carrier Ranger

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The attack carrier Ranger was hit by about two dozen acts of sabotage between June 7 and Oct. 16, the Los Angeles Times said today.

The Times said investigative reports by the Navy showed cutting of fire hoses, telephoned bomb threats, plugging of a fire main, pollution of the ship's fresh water supply with aviation fuel, a fire in the auxiliary room, cutting of timing wires from a launch, destruction of an exhaust control valve, flooding of a gun compartment and assorted damage to the Ranger's generators and oil pumps.

Patrick Dennis Chenoweth, 21, a fireman aboard the ship, has been charged with wartime sabotage in connection with the most serious incident — destruction of the No. 4 engine's reduction gears, which function like a car's transmission.

Chenoweth faces 30 years in prison for allegedly dropping a paint scraper and two 12-inch bolts into the gears last July, causing an estimated $800,000 damage, immobilizing the ship for nearly four months and delaying its return to Vietnam war duty.

The accused sailor from Pu-yallup, Wash., is being held at Treasure Island Naval Station in San Francisco pending the start of a court-martial, expected within two months. The Ranger sailed Thursday for the western Pacific.

The Times said the Navy reports were divulged by the defense attorney in the case, Eric A. Seitz of San Francisco. The damage cited reportedly occurred while the carrier was in the San Francisco Bay port of Alameda.

"The charge of sabotage in time of war has not been used since World War II," the attorney said. "The only reason we can think of for its being used now is to boost the punishment to 30 years — to make it an 'example' to the crew."

New Nation Of Minerva Has No People Yet

ORANGE, Calif. (AP) — The president of the Republic of Minerva (current population: zero; elevation: -3 at high tide) says the world will soon sit up and take notice of the "newest and smallest nation on earth."

But for now, Morris C. "Bud" Davis, 46, conducts Minerva affairs of state from the provisional capital — his living room in this Los Angeles suburb. He has never seen Minerva, which consists of two coral reefs lying near the Tropic of Capricorn, underwater most of the time. Minerva, named after the Greek goddess, is 900 miles north of Auckland, New Zealand and 260 miles south of the capital of Tonga.

Davis says he plans to visit Minerva next summer, but right now he is concentrating on averting a war with neighboring Tonga, which claims the territory.

North Minerva is a circular atoll 4½ miles in diameter. South Minerva, which is 37 miles away, is a coral outcropping in the shape of a figure eight, about 3½ miles wide and eight miles long. At low tide, the reefs thrust three feet above the water. At high tide, they disappear.

Davis, who formerly was an electronic engineer, is president of a company called Caribbean Pacific Enterprises, which was formed for the specific purpose of establishing a new nation somewhere.

There are seven stockholders with a total investment of $250,000 in the project, Davis said in an interview. "The bulk of the money is from the president of a pharmaceutical firm who wishes, at this time, not to be identified," he said.

Then he explained why the company was started. "We figured we really couldn't straighten out our own country," so we would start over someplace new," Davis said. "We searched through history books, libraries and nautical charts for anyplace in the world that was unclaimed."

Minerva was surveyed by Capt. H.M. Denham of the Royal Navy in 1854. But the reefs apparently were unclaimed.

On Jan. 16 of this year, two members of Caribbean-Pacific (Continued on Page 20)

Kissinger, Tho Pound Out Vietnam War Peace Accord

B52s Aid Viet Units At Quang Tri

SAIGON (AP) — Flying at 35,000 feet above monsoon thunderstorms, waves of U.S. B52 bombers dropped 1,200 tons of radar-guided bombs on North Vietnamese positions just below the demilitarized zone, military spokesmen reported today.

Some 40 of the Stratofortresses struck in support of South Vietnamese marines in Quang Tri province who were hit by 3,500-round artillery and mortar barrage over the weekend.

At least 44 North Vietnamese troops were killed in the fighting Saturday and Sunday, while government losses were at least 12 killed and 78 wounded, according to communiques from the Saigon command and field reports.

Despite the stiff resistance and heavy rains, field reports said the marines, backed by an armored column, had advanced about two miles and expanded their area of operations to a coastal strip of land 8 miles north-northeast of Quang Tri city.

Thieu Seen Chief Obstacle To Agreement

PARIS (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger resumed his secret peace negotiations with Hanoi's Le Duc Tho in Paris today amid indications that their governments are determined to seek a quick settlement.

The chief obstacle appeared to be the South Vietnamese government's insistent demand for withdrawal of all North Vietnamese troops from South Vietnam. But Kissinger gave no indication how strongly he would insist on this point.

President Nixon's chief foreign policy adviser said on his arrival Sunday that if Tho and his associate Xuan Thuy showed "the same spirit of understanding and flexibility which characterized our meetings in October, a rapid settlement of the war is probable."

Kissinger and Tho drafted an agreement last month calling for an on-the-spot cease-fire throughout South Vietnam, followed by withdrawal of all American forces, release of all prisoners of war and elections in South Vietnam under international supervision.

North Vietnam set an Oct. 31 deadline for signing the agreement, but the United States refused to be rushed. Kissinger told a news conference in Washington on Oct. 26 some details still needed clarification but added:

"We have given a commitment that a text that will be agreed to at the next session will be the final text and that no new changes will be proposed."

While publicly accusing the United States of stalling, North Vietnamese officials in Paris contended privately that this was a commitment to finalize the text at the current session.

These officials expressed concern over reports from Washington that Kissinger will seek Saigon's approval of the "final" draft and may ask for still another negotiating session with Tho to make the agreement acceptable to Saigon.

"In this way, it may never end," one Hanoi official said.

President Nguyen Van Thieu's South Vietnamese openly described the October draft as a sellout, and the Viet Cong said it represented the "absolute maximum" of concessions the Communists could make.

Hanoi spokesmen have repeatedly said North Vietnam will not even discuss the withdrawal of its troops, asserting that this would "put the American aggressor on the same level as the victims of aggression."

Thieu has insisted that negotiations between his government and the Viet Cong provided for in the draft should take place before — not after — signing of the agreement.

"The Communists want us to sign first and then negotiate," a Saigon spokesman said. "We want to negotiate first and then sign what we have agreed to."

Last year's response to our service was so great—we processed some 1,163 letters with special requests and delivered them to St. Nick in our newspaper.

With this volume, your chances of getting your wish-list to Santa before the rush is better the earlier your letter arrives at our office. After Dec. 16 (that's Saturday) we will not be able to accept any more letters. That gives our staff a week to send out all the letters collected up to that time which had not been printed for lack of space.

This is eight days before Christmas, but everyone should have reached a decision on his gift list by then.

So hurry and deliver your letter to us.

New Nation Of Minerva Has No People Yet

ORANGE, Calif. (AP) — The president of the Republic of Minerva (current population: zero; elevation: 3 at high tide) says the world will soon sit up and take notice of the "newest and smallest nation on earth."

But for now, Morris C. "Bud" Davis, 46, conducts Minerva affairs of state from the provisional capital — his living room in this Los Angeles suburb. He has never seen Minerva, which consists of two coral reefs lying near the Tropic of Capricorn, underwater most of the time. Minerva, named after the Greek goddess, is 900 miles north of Auckland, New Zealand and 260 miles south of the capital of Tonga.

Davis says he plans to visit Minerva next summer, but right now he is concentrating on averting a war with neighboring Tonga, which claims the territory.

North Minerva is a circular atoll 4½ miles in diameter. South Minerva, which is 17 miles away, is a coral outcropping in the shape of a figure eight, about 3½ miles wide and eight miles long. At low tide, the reefs thrust three feet above the water. At high tide, they disappear.

Davis, who formerly was an electronic engineer, is president of a company called Caribbean Pacific Enterprises, which was formed for the specific purpose of establishing a new nation somewhere.

There are seven stockholders with a total investment of $250,000 in the project, Davis said in an interview. "The bulk of the money is from the president of a pharmaceutical firm who wishes, at this time, not to be identified," he said.

Then he explained why the company was started.

"We figured we really couldn't straighten out our own country," so we would start over someplace new," Davis said.

"We searched through history books, libraries and nautical charts for anyplace in the world that was unclaimed." Minerva was surveyed by Capt. H.M. Denham of the Royal Navy in 1854. But the reefs apparently were unclaimed.

On Jan. 16 of this year, two members of Caribbean-Pacific

JUMPS TO HIS DEATH—Sam Burns, 56, leaps off the roof of a 27-story apartment building to his death Saturday in the Bronx borough of New York City. Teetering on the edge of the roof, Burns shouted to police and bystanders that he had killed his business partner and did not want to spend his life in jail. Police had tried to persuade Burns not to jump. They found the body of his partner, dead from stab wounds, in Burns' shop in Manhattan.

China Behind On U.N. Dues, Panel Says

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A committee told the General Assembly today that China is more than two years behind in regular budget dues owed by the Nationalist regime before it was expelled, and Peking's refusal to pay them is grounds for denying the Communists a vote.

But the Committee on Contributions said in view of "the legal and political problems involved, and the ongoing discussions with the People's Republic of China, the committee ... agreed that this question should be resolved by the General Assembly."

No challenge appeared likely, however. The assembly was thrown into a crisis in 1964 when the United States tried to enforce the no-vote rule against the Soviet Union for nonpayment of peacekeeping assessments, and there was no indication anyone wanted to repeat it.

The U.N. charter says any member two years behind in dues "shall have no vote" in the assembly.

The Nationalists owed $16.6 million when they were ousted Oct. 25, 1971, according to the Special Committee on the Financial Situation of the United Nations.

The committee stressed that it would need "new guidance" from the assembly soon if it was to be of any help in settling the U.N. financial problems at the current session, which ends Dec. 19.

Brazilian Wheat Crop Hurt By Weather

WASHINGTON (AP) — Poor weather has reduced Brazil's wheat crop by 40 to 50 per cent and may force the Brazilian government to increase imports of the grain next year, the Agriculture Department said today.

Accordingly, the Foreign Agricultural Service said in a report Brazil may have to import about 92.5 million bushels (2.5 million metric tons) for the year beginning next July 1, compared with 59.2 million (1.6 million tons) imported in the current year.

City Police Probing Three Burglaries

Circleville police are busy investigating three burglaries which occurred in the city over the weekend.

Pt. Ron Smith was checking stores in the downtown area early Monday morning when he noticed a window broken in the rear door at the Frigidaire Sales and Service Store, 126 W. Main St.

A check of the building revealed that the offices had been ransacked.

Mrs. Robert Kenorthy, store manager, told Smith that the only thing that appeared to be missing was $30 to $40 from the cash drawer.

Someone broke into the Scioto Elks, 642 S. Scioto St., early Saturday morning and took four bottles of whiskey and $200 from the cigarette and juke box machines.

Entry was gained through a window on the northside of the building.

Walter D. Smith, 117 N. Scioto St., told police someone had broken into a garage at 220 S. Scioto St. and made off with four lawn chairs, a number of blankets and some tools. The items were valued at $75.

Kelly Craycraft, 453 Brown St., reported the theft of his bicycle Sunday while it was parked at the theater.

Daisy Long, 504 S. Court St., reported that someone took a sharp instrument and scratched the paint on her car Sunday.

Protests Called Over Arrest

DUBLIN (AP) — The Provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army is calling for "a wave of protest" in the United States, Britain and Ireland against the arrest by the Irish government of the Provos' chief of staff, Sean MacStiofain.

The Provisionals' political arm, Sinn Fein, said MacStiofain's arrest in Dublin Sunday was an "act of collaboration" with the British Army, "calculated to give aid and comfort to the forces of British imperialism in Ireland."

MacStiofain is believed to be the mastermind of the IRA's campaign of violence in Northern Ireland, which is aimed at uniting the province with the Irish Republic.

The Dublin government has been reluctant to crack down on IRA leaders because of their grass-roots support in the republic. But in recent months the government pushed a Special Powers Act through Parliament, to bring IRA men to trial without jury and several other terrorist leaders have been arrested.

No Patent On Computer Programming

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today ruled out patents for programming digital computers.

"If these programs are to be patentable, considerable problems are raised which only committees of Congress can manage," Justice William O. Douglas said in the 6-0 decision.

The ruling, which will have a broad impact on the still-developing computer "software" field, supports the government and rejects the claims of two Bell Telephone Laboratories' employees who wanted a patent for programming a general-purpose digital computer.

The patent seekers, Gary R. Benson and Arthur C. Tabbott, have developed a method of programming a general-purpose digital computer to convert signals from binary-coded decimal forms into pure-binary form. The U.S. Patent Office said this was not more than a "series of mental steps for carrying out mathematical procedures."

But the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals ruled the process could be patented since it would be carried out by machines and was "technological."

The Supreme Court disagreed. Douglas said: "Phenomena of nature, though just discovered, mental processes and abstract intellectual concepts are not patentable as they are the basic tools of scientific and technological work."

Youth Shot By Police

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A 13-year-old boy was in serious condition at Marymount Hospital here today after being shot by a Cleveland policeman.

Patrolman Robert K. Baughman, who had been shot in the face by a bank robber during the summer, said he shot the youth after the boy raised what appeared to be a gun. It turned out to be a tire iron, police said.

Police said Baughman and another patrolman had been trying to apprehend the youth in connection with a reported break-in at a YMCA recreational center.

Police said two youths were spotted at the center and that both ran as policemen approached the building.

The other youth, 15, was released to the custody of his parents, police said.

Commissioners Discuss Bid Specs For Sheriff's Radio

Pickaway County Commissioners today discussed the specifications for the new radio package for the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

The only bid submitted was by Motorola in the amount of $29,784. The new equipment will be 75 per cent funded by the federal government.

However, Samuel Boyd, a district representative of GE, filed an objection with the commissioners saying the specifications were written in such a manner that prohibited GE from bidding.

Boyd requested the commissioners reject any bids received and rewrite the specifications for the equipment. Commissioner Dick T. Tootle, Wayne Hines and Charles Morris planned to meet with Sheriff Dwight Radcliff and prosecutor Richard Gerhardt to discuss the objection.

Ohio House Demo Caucus Today To Be 'Victory Party'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio House Democrats caucus today in what one observer said would be sort of a "victory party," since leadership contests appeared to have been decided already.

The 58 Democrats, who will have the majority for the first time since 1960, were to elect their leaders for the session beginning Jan. 1 and to receive a "pep talk" from Gov. John Gilligan.

Veteran Rep. A. G. Lancione of Bellaire was unopposed for House speaker. The 65-year-old attorney has been minority leader during the 109th General Assembly.

In line for speaker pro tem, the No. 2 spot, was seven-term Rep. Vernal G. Riffe Jr., 46, a New Boston insurance broker who has been one of Lancione's top lieutenants.

Rep. Barney Quilter, 52, of Toledo, was expected to get the job of majority floor leader. Quilter, a public relations consultant, came to the legislature in 1967 and rose to assistant minority leader two years ago.

Slated to become assistant majority leader was Rep. Wil-

Peron Steals Initiative From Junta

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Juan D. Peron, in Argentina only four days after 17 years of exile, has seized the political initiative from the ruling military junta in determining the course of the elections scheduled for March 11.

Boistered by thousands of cheering, chanting supporters, the 77-year-old ex-dictator met Sunday night with leaders of the other major political parties. They accepted insults and catcalls from the crowd to attend a meeting called by Peron at the three-story suburban home purchased for him by his supporters.

Peron was to continue his meetings with political leaders today to strengthen his position in any future negotiations with the military government.

There has been no major reaction so far from the government except for a warning that it would take any measures necessary to maintain order around Peron's house.

About a thousand militant Peronists camped overnight around bonfires in a vacant lot across from the villa and on neighborhood lawns. More than 10,000 had gathered there after Sunday afternoon soccer games, but this was far less than the 50,000 who packed the narrow, tree-lined street the night before.

Among the men meeting with Peron Sunday night was Ricardo Balbin, head of the Radical party and a key figure in Peron's plan to form a political alliance to offset the armed forces.

Dear Friends,
Often the death of a dear one is so shocking that the next of kin is stunned and unable to immediately make decisions on burial arrangements. Nevertheless, close relatives or friends should not offer to assume decisions, such as the choice of a funeral director and clergyman.
To avoid later dismay and resentments, it is imperative that the next of kin make the burial decisions.

The letter pointed out there was no cost unless a person is laid off work. Persons not eligible for unemployment compensation include elected officials, employees of the board of elections, appointed members to various boards, library staff, officers to the courts.

William Mallory of Cincinnati, a three-term, 40-year-old teacher who has been Democratic whip under Lancione.

Gilligan was expected to get his warmest legislative reception in his two years as governor during the appearance before the majority caucus.

But people close to him say Gilligan expects "anything but a picnic" at next year's session. Lancione has said he won't run a "rubber stamp" operation for the governor.

"Democrat or Republican, you can always expect them to guard their legislative prerogatives with a lot of zeal," a Gilligan aide said. "We don't expect to send things over there and get them back in a couple of weeks."

Administration bills also face a formidable challenge in getting through the Senate, which Republicans still control, 17-16. The Senate probably will become the compromise arena of the new legislature.

China Behind On U.N. Dues, Panel Says

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP) — A committee told the General Assembly today that China is more than two years behind in regular budget dues owed by the Nationalist regime before it was expelled, and Peking's refusal to pay them is grounds for denying the Communists a vote.

But the Committee on Contributions said in view of "the legal and political problems involved, and the ongoing discussions with the People's Republic of China, the committee . . . agreed that this question should be resolved by the General Assembly."

No challenge appeared likely, however. The assembly was thrown into a crisis in 1964 when the United States tried to enforce the no-vote rule against the Soviet Union for nonpayment of peacekeeping assessments, and there was no indication anyone wanted to repeat it.

The U.N. charter says any member two years behind in dues "shall have no vote" in the assembly.

The Nationalists owed $16.6 million when they were ousted Oct. 25, 1971, according to the Special Committee on the Financial Situation of the United Nations.

The committee stressed that it would need "new guidance" from the assembly soon if it was to be of any help in settling the U.N. financial problems at the current session, which ends Dec. 19.

Brazilian Wheat Crop Hurt By Weather

WASHINGTON (AP) — Poor weather has reduced Brazil's wheat crop by 40 to 50 per cent and may force the Brazilian government to increase imports of the grain next year, the Agriculture Department said today.

Accordingly, the Foreign Agricultural Service said in a report Brazil may have to import about 92.5 million bushels (2.5 million metric tons) for the year beginning next July 1, compared with 59.2 million (1.6 million tons) imported in the current year.

City Police Probing Three Burglaries

Circleville police are busy investigating three burglaries which occurred in the city over the weekend.

Ptl. Ron Smith was checking stores in the downtown area early Monday morning when he noticed a window broken in the rear door at the Frigidaire Sales and Service Store, 126 W. Main St.

A check of the building revealed that the offices had been ransacked.

Mrs. Robert Kenorthy, store manager, told Smith that the only thing that appeared to be missing was $30 to $40 from the cash drawer.

Someone broke into the Scioto Elks, 642 S. Scioto St., early Saturday morning and took four bottles of whiskey and $200 from the cigarette and juke box machines.

Entry was gained through a window on the northside of the building.

Walter D. Smith, 117 N. Scioto St., told police someone had broken into a garage at 220 S. Scioto St. and made off with four lawn chairs, a number of blankets and some tools. The items were valued at $75.

Kelly Craycraft, 453 Brown St., reported the theft of his bicycle Sunday while it was parked at the theater.

Daisy Long, 504 S. Court St., reported that someone took a sharp instrument and scratched the paint on her car Sunday.

George Stumbo and others vs Carolyn S. Robinson; suit seeking $868 filed July 27, 1972 dismissed.

Divorce Dismissed

Jan G. Hall vs Gaylord Steven Hall; action for divorce filed Oct. 30, 1972 dismissed.

Divorce Granted

Charles F. Burkart, Route 2, Ashville vs Lorraine K. Burkart; plaintiff granted divorce from wife on grounds of gross neglect and extreme cruelty and granted custody of couple's two children

Jones, Minor Trial Begun

A three judge panel was hearing evidence today in the trial of Stephen Rose Jones, and Danny Lee Minor, 19, both of Columbus.

The pair are charged with three counts each of armed robbery and auto larceny stemming from a July 30 incident starting at the OSU campus and ending in northwestern Pickaway County where the reported robbery took place.

Hearing the testimony are Judges Gwynne Sanders, of Marysville, Robert Tague, New Lexington and local court judge William Ammer.

Favorable Sign

Of all the economic indicators used to fathom the state of the economy at a given time, none have quite the impact of employment statistics. The ability of a nation to provide productive work for its citizens is the ultimate test of its economic strength.

It is the point toward which all other indicators point when they are on the plus side. As one way of measuring relative employment, the Labor Department periodically reviews the employment picture in 150 major metropolitan areas. Those with unemployment of six per cent or more are listed as having "substantial unemployment."

Few cities relish such labels, but knowing where they stand in relation to the rest of the nation pinpoints pockets needing special attention. A year ago 65 areas were on the "substantial unemployment" list. Today there are 47.

That is the smallest number in 20 months. A decline of more than 25 per cent in a year in the number of entries on this list is a good sign. This does not mean that the unemployment problem is solved, but it shows progress.

Similar After All

Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito achieved world fame and overwhelming respect from the citizens of Eastern Europe by declaring his country's independence from Moscow. Tito never deviated from his commitment to communism, but he successfully championed the idea that each of the communist countries had the right to chart its own destiny.

What made the Tito heresy so remarkable was that it came at a time when the Soviet Union was the unchallenged leader of the communist world and Joseph Stalin was not above crushing anyone who thought otherwise.

Tito got away with his audacious nose-thumbing and for years reveled in being known as communism's leading deviationist.

That role began in the late 1940s, however, and Tito at 80 has taken to trying to reverse history. He is in the midst of his own purges of deviationists — persons who do not follow the party line as promulgated by Marshal Tito.

Tyrants frequently are subject to lapses of this kind, especially as they grow older and restless, ambitious younger men jockey for the chain of succession. There is something ludicrous about the champion of party line deviation crushing others who dare try it.

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that a movie actress gets tired of hearing:

"If you don't want to be a sex symbol, what kind of symbol do you want to be — a psychiatric symbol?"

"It's only a small part, but it fits your mind."

"If the studio decided your name should be Eartha Garbo, who are you to object? How many movie marquee do you think you'd light up if you stuck to our own name — Harriett Pumpernickel?"

"What do you movie stars do with all your money?"

"Remember one thing about the film industry — another pretty actress is no more important than another side of beef in a packing house."

"No, I'm not the producer. I'm the guy who's lending him the money to make this picture. I'm tied up tonight. How about tomorrow night?"

"Harriet, if you think the name Eartha Garbo doesn't fit your personality how about Clara Gable? I think the studio might buy that."

"If you're sure you're really important please sign my autograph book. I really only want genuine celebrities though."

"Honey don't whine about the measly 10 per cent you have to pay me. Ten per cent of you isn't enough to keep a guy like me in cigars."

"Doesn't the empty glamor and false excitement of Hollywood sometimes pall on your secret heart Miss?"

"What's wrong with appearing in an X picture? Wouldn't you rather appear in a good X picture than be upstaged by a horse in a B grade western? Besides this is a different kind of X picture. Part of the time the camera shows your face."

"I guess a movie star like you is pretty hard for a plain little old boy from the country like me to get a date with. Right or wrong?"

"All right all right — so you don't like the idea of being called Clara Gable either. How about Bobbi Hope — and we'll attract attention to it by spelling it with an I instead of an E?"

"Take all that makeup off her and I'll bet she looks like Dracula's niece."

"I write for a religious paper. Tell me the truth. Is life in Hollywood really as wild and immoral as everybody knows it is?"

"Look baby, I took you from nothing, and if you don't do exactly like I tell you, that's where I'm going to put you back."

"Okay already, so you don't feel you'd be happy with the name Bobbi Hope. How'd you like to be called Jane Calamity, kid, and we'll make you a comedienne?"

TUESDAY'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Think out carefully how you would like conditions to be in the future. Although you want quick action, you find there are delays which will give you more time to get your affairs in better condition. Show your ability to consider problems carefully and avoid appearing impatient.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Get busy at those business matters, though you may have much shopping and other chores, also. Reach a perfect understanding with associates. You can get information or data needed from a close tie or neighbor.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You are able to get financial affairs in fine order now, so use your intellect to come up with the right answers to problems. Listen to what a financial expert has to suggest. Show more interest in civic matters.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Don't lose your temper in the face of delays, but show patience and get busy on other matters that are important, also. That social affair is fine, but don't spend too much money. Keep within your budget.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You have duties to perform that are best done right away, for you will surely have trouble if you run off on some tangent or other instead. Plan to get information you need from an expert. Use tact, though.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You are able now to gain some wish that means a great deal to you, so be sure you work slowly and carefully. You want to be with good friends, which is fine, but don't pressure them in any way. Show utmost courtesy, too.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) A fine day to put that plan in operation of a career or civic task that will improve your image considerably. An official can be demanding and make you most uncomfortable, but use tact and all is fine.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Get the data you need at this time if you really want to enter some new outlet that can bring you added income. A new ally gives some that is not applicable. Contact better sources later in the day.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have to be conscientious in going ahead with certain tasks before you, or you can risk a higher-up badly. Small favors for the one you love mean much now. Stop acting in such a supercilious manner, too.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Make sure you know what it is that partners want of you, and do not back out on any promises you have made them or others. Stop picking on that bone of contention, or it could become a serious problem. Keep steady.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You need to get right at all those tasks ahead of you and have them satisfactorily out of the way once and for all. Gain the cooperation of co-workers right now. Take it easy in p.m.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Get into the amusements that make you forget your worries and fit you better for tomorrow's big activity. Tonight you can iron out the wrinkles in your particular skills. Then you can make headway in the future. Don't worry and increase happiness.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Try not to make remarks at home that will worsen matters in that important realm of your existence and then business day is not ruined. Buy whatever is needed to add to comforts of home. Pave the way for greater harmony.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those young people with a truly good mind. Is apt to be impatient and would want to get out of tasks that are not to his or her liking, but are necessary for release of excessive energy and for discipline, so be sure to teach early to complete tasks well. Then the pattern is set for a successful life. There is much managerial ability here which, coupled with the ability to plan well and execute properly, can lead to a wonderful life.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH... by LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

I had a lump removed from my groin last week. I was told that it was Hodgkin's disease. The doctor also told me that it was a type that would respond very well to treatment. Could you tell me what my chances are, with or without treatment?

Mrs. J. H. B., Mass.

Dear Mrs. B.: To neglect treatment for Hodgkin's disease is asking for the direst kind of trouble. Why would such a thought occur to you?

Even though the form of Hodgkin's disease you have is considered by your doctor to be controllable, this condition is one that, under no circumstances, should be neglected.

This disorder, whose cause is still unknown, when untreated affects the lymph nodes, the spleen, the liver, and virtually every organ in the body.

The advances made in the last decade in the understanding, the treatment and the control of Hodgkin's disease are too valuable to be carelessly dismissed without treatment.

The New England Medical Center in Boston is one of the great institutions where you can receive the treatment that will give you your greatest chance for recovery.

The use of drugs, in combination with high-voltage X-rays, has been remarkably effective in keeping this potentially dangerous condition under control in many cases that formerly would have been considered hopeless.

I went to an "ice cream social" where there were hundreds of people. Suddenly I felt faint and broke out into a sweat. I simply had to get out. If I had to fight, claw, scratch or kick, I had to get out.

Is there a name for this reaction? It has happened to me before and it terrifies me.

Mrs. O. S., Ind.

Dear Mrs. S.: This undoubtedly is a "phobic" reaction. "Phobia" simply means uncontrolled fear, dread or horror associated with a particular situation.

There are dozens of different kinds of phobias. Agoraphobia is a dread of open spaces or a fear of crowds of people. Claustrophobia is a fear of being locked up in a room, or of being confined to any limited space such as an elevator or a tunnel.

Fear of heights, fear of water, fear of airplanes, fear of drugs, all are variations of anxiety-producing forces.

Many people have such fears and phobias, but keep them well in control. They simply avoid situations that they know can produce such anxiety.

Saving Democratic Party

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Ben Wattenberg, a profound student of voting patterns who worked as an idea man for Senator Henry Jackson of the State of Washington prior to the Democratic National Convention, has lost no time floating his new group, the Coalition for a Democratic Majority (CDM). Ben, as I knew from conversations with him in Miami Beach last summer, expected nothing but a debacle from the McGovern quota-dominated Presidential nomination. So did his boss, "Scoop" Jackson, who derided McGovern for "begging and bolting." But the New York City monopoly of the picture-dispersing media — the "tube" — and the mass magazines — had created the illusion that the country was ready to go for the "new politics" arising from a decade of angry confrontations.

There had been, as Wattenberg said, "the insane rhetoric" of the counter-culture that stressed the substitution of quotas, whether of ethnic origin, skin color, sex or age, for simple merit. The job of bringing the Democratic Party back to its senses would, so Wattenberg surmised, entail an attempt to change the nature of the intellectual marketplace. Good ideas must be substituted for bad if the Democratic Party were to be rescued.

Hence the creation of CDM with a projected membership that will be split fifty-fifty, more or less, between intellectuals and people drawn from political, business, and labor organizations. Shrewdly, Wattenberg and his sidekick, Richard Shifter, a Hubert Humphrey Democrat who has headed the Montgomery County Democratic organization in Maryland, went to New York City to find the most effective authors for an opening manifesto. They found ready and willing accomplices in Norman Podhoretz, the editor of Commentary, and his wife Midge Decter, a former Harper's editor who has opposed the sillier manifestations of the Women's Lib movement. The Podhoretz-Decter combination turned out a manifesto, "Come Home, Democrats," for mailing to prospective members, and the CDM was in business. Its academic core members include Joseph Bishop of the Yale Law School, Seymour Martin Lipset, Harvard sociologist, John Roche of Brandeis University, Jeanne Kirkpatrick of Georgetown University, and Nathan Glazer, who has collaborated with Nixon's old adviser, Dan Moynihan, in studies of the Melting Pot. Originating public affairs members are Max Kampelman and William Connell, two old Humphrey advisers; Bayard Rustin, the black leader who was associated with A. Phillip Randolph of the Pullman porters; Robert Keefe, a CPE (Committee on Political Education) consultant; and Richard Ravitch, who once raised funds for Ed Muskie.

The role projected for CDM, according to Wattenberg, is to provide "a new Americans for Democratic Action, or ADA that will not be saddled with the phony New Politics psychology that has perverted the older idea-fount of the Democratic liberals. Wattenberg thinks there are many "real liberals" who cannot possibly desert a belief in a sane internationalism for the allurements of a new isolationism. He also thinks many liberals hunger for law and order that are not a code expression for racial suppression. The fact that the Commentary group of intellectuals in New York City, financed by liberal Jewish money, broke with the New Left radicals some months before the political campaign lends some corroboration to Wattenberg's opinions.

The big question, however, is whether Norman Podhoretz and Midge Decter and their friends can really convert those who consider themselves the cream of the intellectual Left in America. Where will the Galbraith-Schlesinger Axis head in? Could the New York Review of Books crowd — from Mary McCarthy, who wants a revolution tomorrow to I. F. Older Democratic mainstream.

Stone, who can't abide any orthodox political group — find a likely haven in a Humphrey-Jackson Democratic Party? What of the Norman Mailer clique and the New York Village Voice clientele? As for the radicals who infest TV, they demand a politics that is pictureable. How to substitute reasoned articles in Commentary for the "theatre" of street confrontations, campus uprisings, and the whole "greening of America" push? And how, at the other end of the spectrum, can the CDM pull in the new libertarians who don't believe that government can keep the country in ventive and prosperous simply by manipulation from Washington? Will Irving Kristol's new pragmatists be satisfied with Wattenberg's "real liberalism," or will they veer more and more toward a Buckley-type conservatism?

These are good questions, and it will be fascinating to watch the CDM as it tries to bring the intellectuals back into an the intellectual mainstream.

Go For 64

NEW YORK (AP)—Julius P. Dell, owner of the Copacabana, which is marking its 32nd anniversary, was asked when he's going to retire.

"I've decided to go for 64," the 72-year-old cafe boss quipped.

Still others may become dominated by their phobias, which then can alter their lives and happiness.

When this occurs it is urgent that the help of a psychiatrist or psychologist is sought.

Often the phobic person, who is powerless to control such situational anxiety, can be directed to a better understanding of the basis for his problem.

Of all the economic indicators used to fathom the state of the economy at a given time, none have quite the impact of employment statistics. The ability of a nation to provide productive work for its citizens is the ultimate test of its economic strength.

It is the point toward which all other indicators point when they are on the plus side. As one way of measuring relative employment, the Labor Department periodically reviews the employment picture in 150 major metropolitan areas. Those with unemployment of six per cent or more are listed

Few cities relish such labels, but knowing where they stand in relation to the rest of the nation pinpoints pockets needing special attention. A year ago 65 areas were on the "substantial unemployment" list. Today there are 47.

That is the smallest number in 20 months. A decline of more than 25 per cent in a year in the number of entries on this list is a good sign. This does not mean that the unemployment problem is solved, but it shows progress.

Similar After All

Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito achieved world fame and overwhelming respect from the citizens of Eastern Europe by declaring his country's independence from Moscow. Tito never deviated from his commitment to communism, but he successfully championed the idea that each of the communist countries had the right to chart its own destiny.

What made the Tito heresy so remarkable was that it came at a time when the Soviet Union was the unchallenged leader of the communist world and Joseph Stalin was not above crushing anyone who thought otherwise.

Tito got away with his audacious nose-thumbing and for years reveled

in being known as communism's leading deviationist.

That role began in the late 1940s, however, and Tito at 80 has taken to trying to reverse history. He is in the midst of his own purges of deviationists — persons who do not follow the party line as promulgated by Marshal Tito.

Tyrants frequently are subject to lapses of this kind, especially as they grow older and restless, ambitious younger men jockey for the chain of succession. There is something ludicrous about the champion of party line deviation crushing others who dare try it.

TUESDAY'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Think out carefully how you would like conditions to be in the future. Although you want quick action, you find there are delays which will give you more time to get your affairs in better condition. Show your ability to consider problems carefully and avoid appearing impatient.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Get busy at those business matters, though you may have much shopping and other chores, also. Reach a perfect understanding with associates. You can get information or data needed from a close tie or neighbor.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You are able to get financial affairs in fine order now, so use your intellect to come up with the right answers to problems. Listen to what a financial expert has to suggest. Show more interest in civic matters.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Don't lose your temper in the face of delays, but show patience and get busy on other matters that are important, also. That social affair is fine, but don't spend too much money. Keep within your budget.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You have duties to perform that are best done right away, for you will surely have trouble if you run off on some tangent or other instead. Plan to get information you need from an expert. Use tact, though.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You are able now to gain some wish that means a great deal to you, so be sure you work slowly and carefully. You want to be with good friends, which is fine, but don't pressure them in any way. Show utmost courtesy, too.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) A fine day to put that plan in operation of a career or civic nature that will improve your image considerably. An official can be demanding and make you most uncomfortable, but use tact and all is fine.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Get the data you need at this time if you really want to enter some new outlet that can bring you added income. A new ally gives some that is not applicable. Contact better sources later in the day.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have to be conscientious in going ahead with certain tasks before you, or you can risk a higher-up badly. Small favors for the one you love mean much now. Stop acting in such a supercilious manner, too.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Make sure you know what it is that partners want of you, and do not back out on any promises you have made them or others. Stop picking on that bone of contention, or it could become a serious problem. Keep steady.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You need to get right at all those tasks ahead of you and have them satisfactorily out of the way once and for all. Gain the cooperation of co-workers right now. Take it easy in p.m.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Get into the amusements that make you forget your worries and fit you better for tomorrow's big activity. Tonight you can iron out the wrinkles in your particular skills. Then you can make headway in the future. Don't worry and increase happiness.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Try not to make remarks at home that will worsen matters in that important realm of your existence and then business day is not ruined. Buy whatever is needed to add to comforts of home. Pave the way for greater harmony.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those young people with a truly good mind. Is apt to be impatient and would want to get out of tasks that are not to his or her liking, but are necessary for release of excessive energy and for discipline, so be sure to teach early to complete tasks well. Then the pattern is set for a successful life. There is much managerial ability here which, coupled with the ability to plan well and execute properly, can lead to a wonderful life.

I had a lump removed from my groin last week. I was told that it was Hodgkin's disease. The doctor also told me that it was a type that would respond very well to treatment. Could you tell me what my chances are, with or without treatment?

Mrs. J. H. B., Mass.
Dear Mrs. B.: To neglect treatment for Hodgkin's disease is asking for the direst kind of trouble. Why would such a thought occur to you?

Even though the form of Hodgkin's disease you have is considered by your doctor to be controllable, this condition is one that, under no circumstances, should be neglected.

This disorder, whose cause is still unknown, when untreated affects the lymph nodes, the spleen, the liver, and virtually every organ in the body.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

No One Will Close The Baby Factory

DEAR ABBY: Do you know a doctor who will perform a hysterectomy on me? I live in Chicago, but I'll go anywhere. I've been to three doctors and they all refused me.

I am 33 years old, married, and have three children, which is all I want. My husband is 44, and he doesn't want any more either.

Birth control pills are out. They gave me all the symptoms of pregnancy and I felt rotten all the time I took them. And the other methods are too much trouble. The only safe way I know of closing down the baby factory is to have a hysterectomy and get it over with.

Rush me the name of the doctor and I can go to and say, "Abby sent me." Thank you.

NO MORE BABIES
DEAR NO MORE: Sorry, but I don't know a doctor who will remove healthy organs. Since both you and your husband agree that your family is complete, why doesn't he consider a vasectomy? It's a relatively simple, inexpensive operation

See November Best Month For Steel

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—November is shaping up as the best shipping month so far this year for several steel producers, Industry Week magazine said Monday.

"Some people had thought that October would be the year's best month, but continued acceleration of business is carrying November beyond earlier expectations," it said. "The momentum promises to carry into the new year."

The magazine said the automobile industry, currently the biggest user of steel, is helping substantially to strengthen steel business prospects, adding:

"Auto sales have not only kept up with the high production, but they have lowered the small inventories at dealers' places of business. This promises strong production rates at the auto plants."

"Consequently, auto companies indicate they will place some substantial steel orders in January."

Industry Week also said the capital goods industries have been slow, but are beginning "to perk up" and add to the over-all steel demand.

Strength in demand is keeping steel production above a weekly level of 2.6 million net tons. The magazine estimated raw steel output last week at 2,662,000 net tons, a slight drop from the previous week's 2,663,000 tons.

Apollo 17 Scientific Payload High

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Can gravity waves, zipping across oceans of space from an early epoch of the universe, tell us when time began? Can these waves be harnessed to create an unlimited source of pollution-free energy?

Is the moon slowly fashioning an atmosphere and interacting with the solar winds to create the building blocks of future life?

ern Arizona and parts of Nevada and Utah. Snow flurries and light freezing drizzle extended from western Nebraska into northern Minnesota.

Fair weather persisted from California to the western half of Texas; but, for the remainder, it was cloudy and cool.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 12 degrees at Laramie, Wyo., to 77 at Key West, Fla.

Beneath the bleak lunar surface are there layers of ice or permafrost that man can tap to make air and water for permanent bases on the moon?

Armed with a new generation of instruments designed specifically for the moon, Apollo 17, scheduled for launching Dec. 6, will try to answer these and other questions which man has long asked.

"The scientific payload on Apollo 17 is greater and more ambitious than on any other flight," said astronaut Eugene A. Cernan, who will command this final Apollo mission. He will fly with Dr. Harrison H. Schmitt, a geologist, and Ronald E. Evans.

Cernan and Schmitt will deploy on the surface six experiments never before flown. Evans will operate three new ones from lunar orbit.

Both Evans and the moon walkers will operate water detection devices. Evans' is called a lunar sounder and will transmit three electronic beams to examine the moon to a depth of nearly three-quarters of a mile. Besides searching for water in the form of ice, the beams will map metallic deposits, determine geological composition and locate subterranean caverns or hollows.

Cernan and Schmitt will work with an instrument designed to measure electrical and mechanical properties of the subsurface to a depth of more than half a mile. It will be able to detect ice or permanently frozen soil.

The three astronauts and most lunar scientists feel the chance of finding water on the moon is remote. However, an Apollo 12 instrument detected what might have been a cloud of water vapor, and the Apollo 17 experiments were designed to take a more thorough look.

"With our experiments, we're going to get a good idea whether there is water on the moon," Cernan stated. "The probability is pretty low, but we can't discount the possibility."

The experiment that excites scientists most is called a tidal gravimeter. On the surface of the quiet moon, it may detect waves of gravity that may have traveled across eons of time from the birthplace of the universe.

The existence of such waves was predicted in Einstein's theory of relativity. And for the first time, instruments devised by Dr. Joseph Weber, a University of Maryland physicist, have recorded evidence that they are being emitted in bursts from the direction of the center of the earth's galaxy but originated outside the solar system.

The background noises of the earth, resulting from seismic and meteorological disturances, complicated the experiment and Weber developed an instrument to operate on the moon where the slightest wave through an atmosphere 1,000 times more quiet than earth's will trigger a signal.

"The origin of the observed gravitational radiation has not been determined, only the direction of its arrival," Weber said. "It is conceivable that the mass at the galactic center is acting as a giant lens, focusing earlier epoch of the universe."

"I should have been accumulating since the beginning of time," he added. "The relatively large intensity apparently being observed may be telling us when time began."

Physicists know that matter exists as both particles and waves. Gravity is a force field just like electricity and Einstein advanced a theory that there are gravity waves, just as there are radio waves and light waves.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

No One Will Close The Baby Factory

DEAR ABBY: Do you know a doctor who will perform a hysterectomy on me? I live in Chicago, but I'll go anywhere. I've been to three doctors and they all refused me.

I am 33 years old, married, and have three children, which is all I want. My husband is 44, and he doesn't want any more either.

Birth control pills are out. They gave me all the symptoms of pregnancy and I felt rotten all the time I took them. And the other methods are too much trouble. The only safe way I know of closing down the baby factory is to have a hysterectomy and get it over with.

Rush me the name of the doctor and I can go to and say, "Abby sent me." Thank you.

NO MORE BABIES
DEAR NO MORE: Sorry, but I don't know a doctor who will remove healthy organs. Since both you and your husband agree that your family is complete, why doesn't he consider a vasectomy? It's a relatively simple, inexpensive operation

See November Best Month For Steel

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—November is shaping up as the best shipping month so far this year for several steel producers, Industry Week magazine said Monday.

"Some people had thought that October would be the year's best month, but continued acceleration of business is carrying November beyond earlier expectations," it said. "The momentum promises to carry into the new year."

The magazine said the automobile industry, currently the biggest user of steel, is helping substantially to strengthen steel business prospects, adding:

"Auto sales have not only kept up with the high production, but they have lowered the small inventories at dealers' places of business. This promises strong production rates at the auto plants."

"Consequently, auto companies indicate they will place some substantial steel orders in January."

Industry Week also said the capital goods industries have been slow, but are beginning "to perk up" and add to the over-all steel demand.

Strength in demand is keeping steel production above a weekly level of 2.6 million net tons. The magazine estimated raw steel output last week at 2,662,000 net tons, a slight drop from the previous week's 2,663,000 tons.

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL MCFADDEN

Kerr-McFadden Rites Read In Late October

Miss Charma L. Kerr became the bride of Michael C. McFadden in an afternoon ceremony Oct. 29 in the Laurel Hills United Methodist Church.

Rev. William Beougher officiated at the double ring ceremony uniting the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Kerr, Laurelville and the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. V. McFadden, Route 1, Laurelville.

A background of palm leaves accented the baskets of yellow, orange and bronze mums, yellow and orange carnations and other flowers decorating the altar.

A program of nuptial music was presented by organist, Mrs. Roger Egan.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a white Swiss embroidered eyelet gown fashioned with an A-line skirt, fitted bodice and Victorian full sleeves gathered to deep cuffs. A satin ribbon belt with streamers defined the waistline and a detachable train of Swiss lace fell to chapel length. The bride's headpiece was a band of Venice lace and satin loops and bows anchoring two tiers of elbow length imported silk English illusion. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, yellow rosebuds and lily of the valley.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Thomas Hanes, aunt of the bride. She was gown in moss green rayon over taffeta. The dress featured shirred empire bodice and cuffs. Double bows of green gathering nylon tulle veiling made her headpiece. She carried a basket of fall-colored chrysanthemums.

Bridesmaids Miss Jean Grunden, Miss Sharon Grunden and Mrs. Dave Seymour wore matching gowns. Mrs. Seymour's and Jean's in orange and Sharon's in green.

Mr. Michael DeLong served the groom as best man. Ushers were Mr. Dale Jenne, Mr. Dan DeLong Jr. and Mr. Dave Seymour.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kerr chose a burgundy A-line knit dress with argyle knit sleeveless coat and burgundy accessories. Mrs. McFadden was gown in a beige and white knit of A-line styling and brown accessories. Both wore corsages of orange, yellow and bronze mums.

A reception in the church social room immediately followed the ceremony. Hostesses were Mrs. Dave Allen, Mrs. John Swackhammer, Mrs. Robert Flood and Mrs. Harry M. Ross, sister of the groom. Miss Virginia Hartley presided at the guest register.

The couple now resides at 375 Clark Drive.

Secretary Mina North announced the auxiliary received the gift for having the most candidates at the Fall Central Zone Conference hosted by the Aerie and Auxiliary Nov. 11 and 12. The new members are: Clara Sampill, Mona D. Wilkins, Minnie Ogden and Virginia Bussert.

Around 150 auxiliary members and visiting auxiliary members attended the zone conference in the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church. The Springfield Auxiliary won the attendance gifts for both days. Springfield Auxiliary won the membership gift with 58 new members. Top producer was the Buckeye Lake Auxiliary.

Guest speakers were Anthony Angelo, Eastern regional president; Virgil Cricle, Robert Mills, Florence McLean and Ruth Hasis, madam state president. The Sunday meeting was conducted by the New Boston Ritual Team. The collection on both days was for the Boy's Village Fund, one of the Auxiliary's annual charities. Following the meeting guests received door prizes donated by the Circleville Auxiliary.

Mrs. Mason Hosts Circle 4

Circle 4 of the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church met recently in the home of Mrs. Florence Mason, 108 Reber Ave. with 16 members and one guest present.

Carole Younkin, circle leader, opened the business meeting with scripture and prayer.

Members voted to give $10 to the general treasury to pay for some new books.

Catherine Martin, spiritual growth secretary, explained a little about Key 73. Blanche Kerns presented $46 to the circle treasury. This was money made from selling mince meat, the circle project. Mrs. Kerns reported the circle still has 12 quarts and 12 pints of mince meat to sell.

Books donated by Hazel Shelton will be distributed to the three rest homes in Circleville.

Catherine Martin presented the Thanksgiving program. She read "Therapy of Thankfulness" by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale. Bible verses were read by those present.

Each one presented her thank offering and told what she was thankful for.

The program was closed with member's standing and joining hands and singing "Count Your Blessings."

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Florence Mason, assisted by Delorice Bennington and Daisy Welsh.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Sue Roan with Rosilee Crabtree as program leader. There will be a $2 gift exchange.

The loganberry never grew wild.

Fresh Background Ideas Presented At Meeting

A program, Creative Backgrounds, was presented by Mrs. Emmett Barnhart for members of Pickaway County Garden Club Tuesday at their meeting in the St. Philip Episcopal Parish House.

Interpreting the title were imaginative and colorful flower arrangements with the backgrounds discussed. One effect was achieved by the use of black lights and fluorescent paint.

With sculptured wire forms, unusual wood structures, mobiles, moving parts, spotlights, and revolving color wheels, Mrs. Barnhart produced an exciting visual treat, all in the modern spirit, in her 19 creations.

Large and smaller chrysanthemums and flowering kale used in the arrangements were grown by Mrs. Barnhart and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Savoy. Much exotic dried plant material glowed with the psychedelic coloring of orange, hot pink, aqua and other brilliant shades.

Interpretations of "Dawn," "The Butterfly Tree," "The Ohio State Museum," "The Happy Hour," "We Thank Thee" and "The Chrysanthemum Show" were included in the presentation. Other themes were "Astronauts Going to the Moon" and "Bombs Bursting in Air."

During the business session, Mrs. Frank Gans, president, thanked committees and members who had worked on the Pumpkin Show flower

Thanksgiving Program Heard By Morning Circle

Members were urged to read the story of the birth of Christ in the four gospels. A meditation on Thanksgiving was given by Mrs. Earl Millions.

Clothing Center will be open on Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. with Mrs. Marion DeLong and Mrs. Nellie Conrad in charge.

It was reported a total of 260 youths participated in the CROP march Sunday. Cards were signed to be sent to Mrs. Leona Valentine and Mrs. Harry Betz at Berger Hospital.

An executive meeting is scheduled 2:30 p.m. Sunday. Plans for the coming year are to be formulated.

December will be a joint meeting with members of the Evening Circle. Hostesses will be Mrs. Harold Griffith, Mrs. Russell Archer, Mrs. Florence Wise, and Miss Ruth Dollison. Program leaders will be Mrs. Harry Betz and Mrs. Manley Carothers.

FOE Auxiliary Reviews Zone Conference

The Fraternal Order of Eagles 685 Auxiliary met Thursday in the Aerie Home with President Cleo Caudill in charge of the meeting.

Secretary Mina North announced the auxiliary received the gift for having the most candidates at the Fall Central Zone Conference hosted by the Aerie and Auxiliary Nov. 11 and 12. The new members are: Clara Sampsil, Mona D. Wilkins, Minnie Ogden and Virginia Bussert.

Around 150 auxiliary members and visiting auxiliary members attended the zone conference in the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church. The Springfield Auxiliary won the attendance gifts for both days. Springfield Auxiliary won the membership gift with 58 new members. Top producer was the Buckeye Lake Auxiliary.

Guest speakers were Anthony Angelo, Eastern regional president; Virgil Cricle, Robert Mills, Florence McLean and Ruth Hasis, madam state president. The Sunday meeting was conducted by the New Boston Ritual Team. The collection on both days was for the Boy's Village Fund, one of the Auxiliary's annual charities. Following the meeting guests received door prizes donated by the Circleville Auxiliary.

The annual Christmas party was discussed at the Thursday meeting. The third Sunday in December was chosen as the date. It will be in the Aerie basement. More details will be decided at the Dec. 2 meeting.

Mrs. Mason Hosts Circle 4

Circle 4 of the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church met recently in the home of Mrs. Florence Mason, 108 Reber Ave. with 16 members and one guest present.

Carole Younk, circle leader, opened the business meeting with scripture and prayer. Members voted to give $10 to the general treasury to pay for some new books.

Catherine Martin, spiritual growth secretary, explained a little about Key 73. Blanche Kerns presented $46 to the circle treasury. This was money made from selling mince-meat, the circle project. Mrs. Kerns reported the circle still has 12 quarts and 12 pints of mince-meat to sell.

Books donated by Hazel Shelton will be distributed to the three rest homes in Circleville.

Catherine Martin presented the Thanksgiving program. She read "Therapy of Thankfulness" by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale. Bible verses were read by those present.

Each one presented her thank offering and told what she was thankful for.

The program was closed with members standing and joining hands and singing "Count Your Blessings."

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Florence Mason, assisted by Delorice Bennington and Daisy Welsh.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Sue Roan with Rosilee Crabtree as program leader. There will be a $2 gift exchange.

The loganberry never grew wild.

Fresh Background Ideas Presented At Meeting

A program, Creative Backgrounds, was presented by Mrs. Emmett Barnhart for members of Pickaway County Garden Club Tuesday at their meeting in the St. Philip Episcopal Parish House.

Interpreting the title were imaginative and colorful flower arrangements with the backgrounds discussed.

One effect was achieved by the use of black lights and fluorescent paint.

With sculptured wire forms, unusual wood structures, mobiles, moving parts, spotlights, and revolving color wheels, Mrs. Barnhart produced an exciting visual treat, all in the modern spirit, in her 19 creations.

Large and smaller chrysanthemums and flowering kale used in the arrangements were grown by Mrs. Barnhart and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Savy. Much exotic dried plant material glowed with the psychedelic coloring of orange, hot pink, aqua and other brilliant shades.

Interpretations of "Dawn," "The Butterfly Tree," "The Ohio State Museum," "The Happy Hour," "We Thank Thee" and "The Chrysanthemum Show," were included in the presentation. Other themes were "Astronauts Going to the Moon" and "Bombs Bursting in Air."

During the business session, Mrs. Frank Gans, president, thanked committees and members who had worked on the Pumpkin Show flower exhibit and the competitive decorated window. Welcomed was a guest, Mrs. Paul Berrigan, and new members, Mrs. Roy Huffer and Mrs. M. E. Royce.

The president announced that the Columbus Regional will offer four basic flower arranging lesson to members of Garden Clubs of Ohio in February at no charge.

The Christmas Workshop is slated Dec. 11 beginning 7:30 p.m. It will be conducted by Mrs. William Leist at her home. Mrs. James Irwin will also instruct.

Anyone wishing to attend should contact Mrs. Leist or Mrs. Gans. Materials will be furnished, at cost, with the exception of a fresh pineapple. Those are to be brought by members attending.

Mrs. C. K. Vaughan was chairman of the hostess committee assisted by Mrs. James Irwin, Mrs. Eugene Hanson, Mrs. E. E. Porter, Mrs. F. W. Anderson and Mrs. Bernard Savy.

Mrs. William Robertson will be hostess at her Route 5 home for the Dec. 12 Christmas meeting at 7:30 p.m. For that meeting, each member is to bring a wrapped gift for a patient at Veterans Hospital, Chillicothe. Mrs. C. K. Vaughan will judge the wrappings for the most attractive package.

A large cone wreath has been made and presented to the Circleville Chamber of Commerce for its holiday decorations.

Thanksgiving Program Heard By Morning Circle

Eleven members of the Morning Circle of WSCS of Calvary United Methodist Church met in the home of Mrs. Edgar Anderson, Route 2, recently.

Mrs. Dale DeLong, president, opened the meeting with a poem, "If Jesus Came To Spend Some Time With You," and prayer.

Roll call was answered by those present giving several things for which they were thankful.

Members were urged to read the story of the birth of Christ in the four gospels. A meditation on Thanksgiving was given by Mrs. Earl Millions.

Clothing Center will be open on Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. with Mrs. Marion DeLong and Mrs. Nellie Conrad in charge.

It was reported a total of 260 youths participated in the CROP march Sunday. Cards were signed to be sent to Mrs. Leona Valentine and Mrs. Harry Betz at Berger Hospital.

An executive meeting is scheduled 2:30 p.m. Sunday. Plans for the coming year are to be formulated.

December will be a joint meeting with members of the Evening Circle. Hostesses will be Mrs. Harold Griffith, Mrs. Russell Archer, Mrs. Florence Wise, and Miss Ruth Dollison. Program leaders will be Mrs. Harry Betz and Mrs. Manley Carothers.

Prior to the business session the hostess served doughnuts, coffee and tea.

Mrs. James Salyer, program leader, gave an interesting history of Thanksgiving. In both the United States and Canada, a day is set aside each year as Thanksgiving Day.

11 Members Attend Guild Meeting Monday

Berger Hospital Guild met Monday in the home of Mrs. Harry Wright, Route 1, with 11 members and one guest Mrs. Gladys Shepler, present.

Barbara McKenzie, conducted the business meeting during which final plans were made for the Christmas meeting to be held at Pickaway Arms Dec. 21.

Food donations were requested for the food booth at the bazaar. A chance gift brought by Barbara McKenzie was won by Mrs. Tacie Dumm. The remainder of the evening was spent playing games with prizes going to Mrs. Berdine Gifford, Mrs. Zelma Bower and Mrs. Jessie Wilson. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Butler Commissioner Rips Brown, Storms From Meet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Butler County Commissioner Arthur Reiff told Secretary of State Ted Brown Thursday he'd been in the Statehouse "too damned long" and then stormed out of Brown's office as the secretary of state smiled after him.

The outburst by Reiff came during a meeting of Butler county and state elections officials called for a discussion of what went wrong with the county's election machinery on Nov. 7.

Reiff was invited to attend after he charged that the foul-ups were the fault of Brown and the county board of elections. He also reportedly called for Brown's resignation.

As the meeting turned to the subject of Butler County's Coyle voting machines, which Reiff also blamed for the election day problems, Brown told

Reiff that "if I was one of the electors down there, I'd be looking around to find a successor for you."

Reiff answered, "I can take care of my constituents. You wouldn't be sitting in that chair if your name wasn't Brown."

"That's right," Brown countered. "Do you know how long I've been here?"

"Yes," Reiff retorted. "Too damned long. This meeting is adjourned as far as I am concerned." Reiff stormed out and Brown smiled after him from the seat he has occupied as secretary of state for 21 years.

Reiff claimed during the meeting that the Coyle machines had caused "nothing but trouble. Bugs, bugs and more bugs." Much of the session was devoted to exchanges and charges between Reiff and Republican members of the elections board.

Brown's election counsel,

James Marsh, pointed out that county commissioners and not elections board members are responsible for purchasing voting machines.

Reiff said he thought the commissioners had to follow the board's recommendations, but Marsh said that wasn't his opinion.

Many of the Coyle machines broke down election day, some of them apparently because damp cards were inserted into the machines by rain-soaked voters and clogged them.

Part of the trouble was also blamed on the long ballot which apparently confused a number of voters.

Juan Peron An Argentine Legend

By OSCAR J. SERRAT
Associated Press Writer

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Juan Domingo Peron, a living legend in this country that he ruled with an iron hand for nearly 10 years, has returned home from exile.

Seventeen years ago, on Sept. 21, 1955, his generals rebelled and Peron fled to the Paraguayan Embassy and then to a river gunboat.

He never returned to his homeland where, in the years of glory, tens of thousands of faithful followers would cheer his words at giant rallies. He would stand, his unusually short arms folded across his chest, while the throng chanted, "Peron Peron."

Now, at 77, he is still tall and erect and has abundant hair combed straight back. His once-strong voice is unsteady.

He had joined other pro-Axis army officers to topple the government of President Ramon S. Castillo in 1943 and two years later was vice president and minister of war and labor. Peron turned the Labor Ministry into a powerful position, forcing through more labor reform measures than any previous Argentine government and winning fanatical support from his "descamisados"—shirtless ones.

They were the people who came to his rescue when generals opposed to Nazi Germany and fascism removed him from office in the fall of 1945 and jailed him.

A half-million laborers who remembered that Peron had lowered rents, increased salaries, enforced collective bargaining, established regulations for rural workers and granted a bonus of one month's pay per year, swarmed into Plaza de Mayo on Oct. 17, 1945, and demanded he be freed.

Peron's enemies capitulated and elections swept him into the presidency the following May. Methodically, and with the captivating assistance of his second wife, Maria Eva Duarte, Peron built a power structure unparalleled since the regime of the dictator Juan Manuel de Rosas in the mid-1880s.

His ascendancy to power in 1946 altered completely Argentina's national life.

But there are many differences between 1946 and 1972.

In 1946 his followers were solidly united, he had support from many fellow generals and the Central Bank was loaded with an estimated $1.5 billion worth of gold and foreign reserves from World War II trade.

Now the Peronists are divided into bitterly feuding factions. The armed forces dislike and distrust Peron. Argentina's foreign debts exceed $5 billion.

Why did Peron leave his luxurious villa in Madrid to face the heat here? Publicly, Peronist leaders say, the people demanded his return. Moderate Peronists add that it is "a mission of peace and conciliation." Militants claim it is to create a popular revolutionary front to oppose the military regime and "the oligarchy."

Many suggest Peron will remain less than a week and then will either visit several other Latin American capitals or return to Madrid.

Peron, although he showered his wife Eva with lavish gifts, is a man of frugal tastes and Spartan habits. He rises early, spends several hours reading or handling his copious correspondence, and then takes short strolls to relax. He has always been in excellent health, but had a prostate operation some years ago in Spain.

He married his first wife in 1920. The couple had two children. She died in 1938.

Peron married the popular Eva in October 1945, after his "shirtless ones" gained his release from jail. Many feel he began to lose his grip on his followers after she died of cancer in 1952.

Eva's body was enshrined in a labor union headquarters until the coup when army officers took the body away and buried it secretly in an Italian cemetery.

President Alejandro Lanusse, head of the ruling junta ordered the body returned to Peron in Madrid last year in one of his first steps to gain Peronist participation in the March elections.

Eva's body remains in Madrid at a chapel. Returning with Peron was his third wife Maria Isabel Martinez, a former dancer Peron met in Panama after he went into exile in 1955.

Death Penalty Situation Up In Air

By JOHN EAGAN
Associated Press Writer
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—California's voters have made it crystal clear they favor capital punishment, but the legal situation remains cloudy on whether the gas chamber ever will be used again in the state.

By a 2-1 margin on Nov. 7, the voters approved Proposition 17 — an amendment to the California Constitution specifying that the death penalty cannot be banned as "cruel or unusual punishment."

The vote nullified a 6-1 California Supreme Court decision handed down nine months earlier. But there is sharp disagreement over what effect it has in relation to the U.S. Supreme Court's 5-4 decision June 29.

In ruling on three separate cases — one murder conviction and two nonfatal rapes — the majority opinion said simply: "The court holds that the imposition and carrying out of the death penalty in these cases constitutes cruel and unusual punishment in violation of the 8th and 14th Amendment."

The 8th Amendment bans cruel and unusual punishment and the 14th guarantees citizens due process and equal protection under the law.

Some opponents of capital punishment — contend the ruling outlawed the death penalty — period. Other authorities, including California Atty. Gen. Evelle J. Younger, contend the ruling means the death penalty is unconstitutional only as it had been imposed and administered.

Younger says that means capital punishment is barred only when a judge or jury has an option on whether a convicted defendant is sentenced to death or life imprisonment.

Michael Franchetti, a deputy attorney general researching the issue, said in an interview that the U.S. Supreme Court actually handed down a total of 11 separate opinions on the death penalty — nine individual opinions, one majority opinion and one minority opinion.

"It left everything up in the air," Franchetti said. "We think the court is going to have to come down with another decision to make it clear what they really think."

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger — who dissented from the high court's ruling — set that same tone last June when he said, "The future of capital punishment in this country has been left in an uncertain limbo. Rather than providing a final and unambiguous answer on the basic constitutional question, the collective impact of the majority's ruling is to demand an undetermined measure of change from the various state legislatures and the Congress."

Franchetti said Prop. 17 "re-instated all death penalty statutes, but there is some doubt as to how many state statutes are in effect in view of the U.S. Supreme Court decision."

He said passage of Proposition 17 does not specifically require implementing legislation, but two leading supporters of capital punishment — Republican Sens. H.L. Richardson of Arcadia and George Deukmejian of Long Beach — say they will introduce bills in January as followups to passage of Prop. 17.

On the other side of the issue, attorney Anthony Amsterdam, has pledged that the first death penalty sentence in California will be appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court. Amsterdam, a Stanford professor, was a moving force behind the legal battle that prompted the decisions by the state and U.S. Supreme Courts.

The American Civil Liberties Union also has pledged court fights against reactivating San Quentin's apple green gas chamber, where 188 men and four women have died — the last in April 1967.

No matter what the outcome, it will have no effect on the 102 men and 3 women whose sentences were commuted to life imprisonment by the California

Supreme Court's decision.

They included Charles Manson, convicted of the layings of actress Sharon Tate and six others, and Sirhan B. Sirhan, assassin of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Jack Is Now The Father Of 31

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Jack, a 14-year-old lion at the Indianapolis zoo, described as a bit on the scrawny side, has fathered two more cubs, bringing his total number of offspring to 31.

A new daughter and son were born recently to Jack and his mate, Martha, at the zoo.

The aging father now is fed ground meat rather than large chunks of meat so he can chew and digest it more readily, zoo officials said.

Textile Import Policy Rapped

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Garment workers from coast to coast demonstrated Thursday to get the government to restrict the flow of foreign-made textiles, which their union says has cost hundreds of thousands of jobs.

In New York City, about 50,000 members of the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union took time off for two hours to hold protest rallies in the garment district.

A union official said 250,000 New York jobs have been lost over the past 15 years because of imports.

The rallies and marches were an effort to secure passage of the import-restricting Burke-Hartke Bill, now pending in Congress. Louis Stulberg, president of the ILGWU, noted that the President also has power to impose import ceilings.

In Los Angeles, Cornelius Wall, union western director, said in connection with a demonstration there that foreign garments sold in the United States have gone from 4 per cent of total sales to 25 per cent in the past 10 years.

In one second the sun radiates more energy than man has used since the beginning of civilization, National Geographic says.

Death Penalty Situation Up In Air

By JOHN EAGAN
Associated Press Writer
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California's voters have made it crystal clear they favor capital punishment, but the legal situation remains cloudy on whether the gas chamber ever will be used again in the state.

By a 2-1 margin on Nov. 7, the voters approved Proposition 17 — an amendment to the California Constitution specifying that the death penalty cannot be banned as "cruel or unusual punishment."

Constant Jet Noise Causes Madness

LONDON (AP)—The constant scream of jet aircraft over residential areas near airports can drive some persons mad, a psychologist says.

Dr. Colin Herridge, a government mental health adviser, found that several residents required hospital treatment for nervous disorders after living in the shadow of jet air traffic. "Some had been driven totally insane," he reported in the British Journal of Audiology.

1967 Air Crash Survivor Hasn't Been On Plane Since

By JOHN W. CHACE
Associated Press Writer
FLORENCE, Ky. (AP)—Robert Hart of Ashland, Ky., hasn't flown in an airplane since five years ago today.

He said he doesn't "think" he is afraid to fly but has traveled long distances by other means since Nov. 20, 1967, when a Trans World Airlines jet carrying him and 81 other persons crashed near Greater Cincinnati Airport. Seventy were killed.

"If I fly I would like for it to be on a TWA to convince myself I have no fear," said Hart, an Internal Revenue Service agent. He was badly burned when the Convair 880 plowed into a fruit orchard short of the airport runway.

"My wife and I would get on the same plane and take off but I guess I really wouldn't know if I were scared until I set foot on the plane," Hart said.

Although still experiencing considerable pain because of a leg injured in the crash, Hart said he and other survivors would "just as soon dismiss it from our minds."

Hart did recall the outstanding response of people wanting to donate blood for the survivors, most of whom live outside the Greater Cincinnati-Northern Kentucky area. The response reminded Hart of an air crash near Huntington, W. Va., Nov. 14, 1970, in which 75 people, including nearly all the Marshall University football team, were killed.

A Marshall graduate, Hart recalled he was "stunned, didn't want to get near the crash site, but still wanted to do something."

He said he offered to give blood.

"But I don't think I have a fear of flying because of that crash or the other one," Hart said.

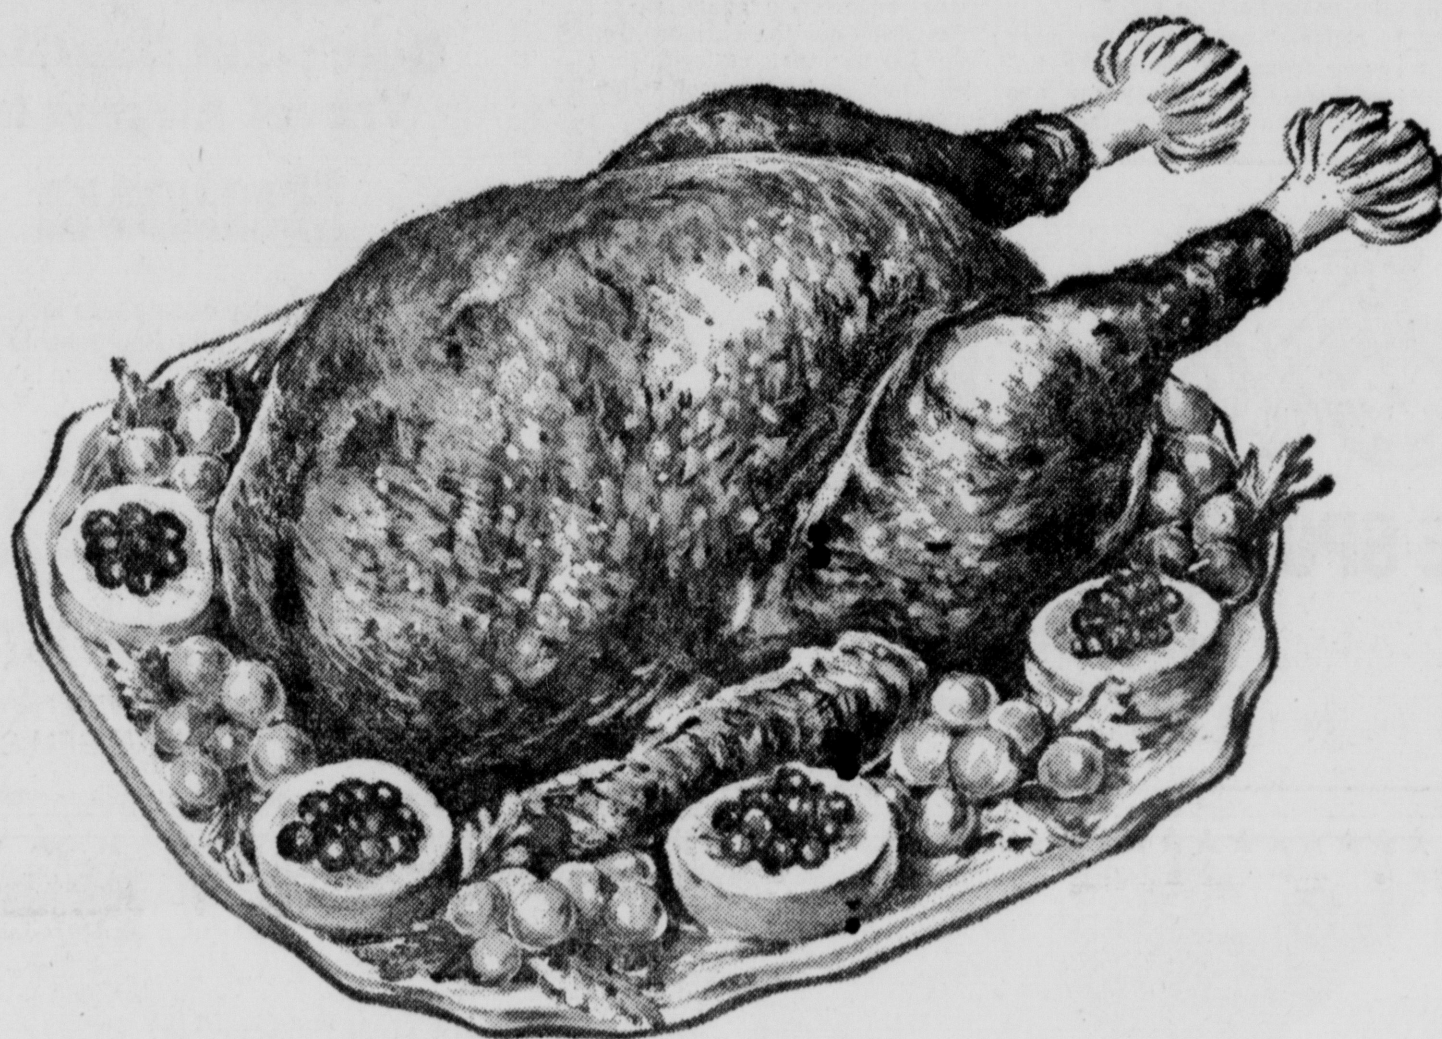

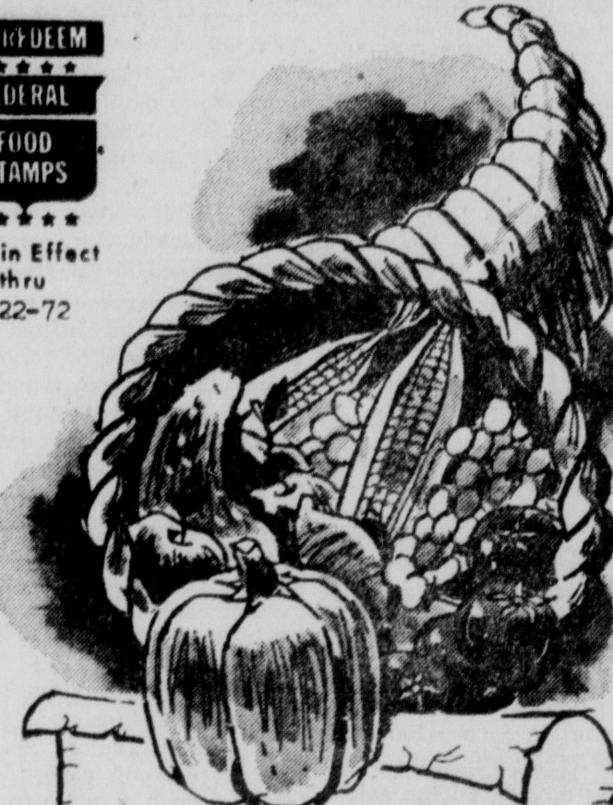

The National Transportation Safety Board blamed the 1967 tragedy on an attempted night landing with poor visibility, inadequate landing aids on the ground and insufficient cross checks by the crew.

UMW Vote Set; See Long Tally

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Officials from the U.S. Labor Department say they hope to announce the winners in the court-ordered United Mine Workers Union election by Dec. 20—12 days after balloting is completed.

A recent supplementary edition of the union's journal contains ground rules for the election, to be conducted Dec. 1 through Dec. 8.

The Labor Department was ordered by U.S. District Judge William Bryant last spring to supervise the election, after Bryant threw out results from the 1969 UMW election.

Up for grabs are the posts of president, vice president, secretary-treasurer, three auditors and three tellers of the powerful union. Most interest is centered on the race for the presidency between incumbent W. A. "Tony" Boyle and reform faction leader Arnold Miller.

More than 205,000 active and retired members of the union are eligible to vote, with working miners voting at mine locations and pensioners voting in towns near their homes.

Department of Labor officials will handle the ballots from the time they come off the printing presses until the official tabulation is completed.

Ohio Demo Chieftain Quits Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—John E. Jones has resigned as executive director of the Ohio Democratic Party, but will remain on the job for about three more months.

State Chairman William Lavelle said Sunday he had accepted Jones' resignation but had asked Jones to remain on until a successor could be found and a transition completed.

Lavelle said he expected Jones to remain at the post until Mid-February.

Jones' resignation and an announcement over the weekend that J. Ronald Castell was quitting as Gov. John Gilligan's $27,000-a-year "image maker" prompted speculation that Jones might be taking a job in the Statehouse.

Jones, executive director since March 1971, was vacationing in Florida and could not be reached for comment. Gilligan's chief of staff, John Hansen, said he knew of no plans for Jones to move into the governor's office.

In his letter of resignation Jones noted the party's successes in Ohio in the Nov. 7 election and said it is "a good time to take a look at one's own situation and make plans for the future."

He referred to disruptions of his personal life that have resulted from his nearly 15 years of campaign activity and politics.

Law Enforcement Radio Net Slated

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Sixty police departments, the FBI and the Cuyahoga County sheriff's office may be linked by a single communications system in the Greater Cleveland area by 1974.

Police officials in the county said that network control stations in four mobile radio districts will be able to relay communications between individual departments either on a routine or emergency basis.

The setup will eventually cost around $1 million, financed through federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration funds. Police said the network will provide quicker response to crime reports and faster information on criminals themselves as well as permit emergency contact with other police departments during a crisis.

Economy Grows Stronger, But Inflation Worrisome

WASHINGTON (AP) — The economy grew a little stronger and inflation increased slightly more than estimated earlier, the Commerce Department said Saturday in a report on national economic output for the July-September quarter.

At the same time, the department said, profits of corporations before taxes showed a moderate increase in the same period, rising at an annual rate of 4.2 billion compared with $3.4 billion in the second quarter of the year.

Revising its estimate of the Gross National Product, value of the nation's goods and services and the broadest measure of the economy, the department said GNP grew at an annual rate of 6.3 per cent in the third quarter, a sharper rate of increase than the 5.9 per cent rate of increase reported only a month ago.

The revision was good news for the administration in one sense because it showed the economy is still recovering vigorously. But the fast rate of growth is raising fears in some quarters of the administration that the high rate of growth could trigger new inflationary pressures next year.

The rate of inflation, as measured by GNP figures, was 2.4 per cent in the third quarter, higher than the 2.2 per cent originally estimated and within the administration's forecasts for this year.

The report said GNP increased by $24.6 billion to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $1,164 trillion. This was about $2 billion more than reported earlier.

As for corporate profits, the department said the third-quarter increase brought them to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $95.8 billion.

Profits are expected to be strong this year as the economy continues on its upward path. They were held down in the second quarter because of flood damages in the northeast due to tropical storm Agnes.

It's Tiffany's Bargain Day; Buy Diamond For $5 Million

NEW YORK (AP) — To make a point, Tiffany & Co. put one-day for sale sign Friday on its celebrated Canary Yellow Diamond, a gem it really doesn't want to sell. The price tag is a cool $5 million.

"We'll be handing out handkerchiefs if anyone buys it," Walter Hoving, Tiffany's 74-year-old chairman said of the 128-carat stone, the largest of its kind in the world. Tiffany has owned the diamond since its discovery in South Africa in 1877.

Hoving said the firm was putting the diamond on sale for one day only to warn buyers about so-called limited edition collectors' items being advertised in record numbers this year. Many companies offering the collectors' items put a time deadline on sales in order to encourage purchases, he said in an interview Thursday.

"We hope he won't buy it," he said of the Canary Yellow Diamond. "It's really a limited edition and a limited time. Our objective is we hope to influence the public to be more careful and discriminating when they buy, to buy things really worth making a collection of.

"Some companies use this limited edition thing to get a better price. I don't say they all do. But there are too many using this thing that way."

Tiffany advertised the sale of the diamond in today's newspapers. The ads said: "This season seems to be replete with offers of so-called collectors' items issued in Limited Editions," often represented as Great Art, but too often of questionable artistic merit.

"Some of them are huckstered with sophisticated 20th century versions of the snake-oil techniques of the 19th century calculated to appeal to the greed of the customer with implied promises of increased future value, as well as with attempts to scare the customer into a quick purchase or else this 'priceless golden opportunity' will be gone forever."

Negotiators said some progress was being made to reach a contract settlement.

David J. Crombie, TWA vice president for industrial relations, said the mediation between TWA and Machinists representatives terminated Sunday without agreement. He said no date has been set for a resumption of the talks.

NEW YORK (AP) — Arnold Zenker is not one of the best-known men in America. But he was for 13 days just 5½ years ago. At that time, he was the anchorman of the evening news on the CBS television network.

Millions of viewers saw him. The man he replaced, someone called Walter Cronkite, was on strike against CBS along with Cronkite's fellow members in the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists — AFTRA.

The strike, the first in the union's 30-year history, also was against NBC and ABC. It touched off a frenzied corporate scramble to find management personnel who could pass muster on the air.

Zenker, then 27 and manager of CBS' news programming, learned the meaning of instant stardom. He had worked his way through law school as a radio broadcaster, but never had worked in television.

CBS management went hmmm and tried him out in front of the cameras on the 7 a.m. news the morning the strike began. Then they gave him a crack at the noon news. And then the afternoon news.

Then he adjourned to bed, having been up since 4 a.m. Whereupon, he says, "the phone rang and they (CBS officials) said 'come on back. You're going to do the Cronkite thing, too.' And I did."

It was a move that after the strike lured him away from the corporate corridors into a full-time television career, starting with a year at a Boston station where he anchored the 7 p.m. news.

From there it was on to Baltimore, where he ran a daily talk show for three years. In March this year, he headed back to Boston, and now works for WCVB-TV.

He runs a talk and variety show each weekday morning and on Thursday night he hosts a half-hour talk show called, "Zenker: Hotseat."

Did his first day on the Cronkite hotseat make him nervous?

"You know, I really wasn't nervous, strange as it may sound," he said. "I was keved

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Did State Treasurer Gertrude Donahey get drawn into a local Columbus political fight between two warring groups of Democrats last week when she forced the resignation of two employees?

Columbus City Council President M. D. Portman believes she did. She fired Portman's son, Jeff, and longtime deputy treasurer James Dayton.

Mrs. Donahey claims it was because that Dayton, a Republican had the elder Portman's brokerage firm handle $2 million in government bonds the state wanted to buy.

Stockbroker Portman, a Democrat, said he lost money on the transaction, while the state sold the bonds at a profit. Other stock brokers, he said, handled $7 million in similar transactions.

Zenker, who now is a dues-paying member of the same union that struck CBS, was asked if the network's striking AFTRA members showed any animosity toward him during his 13-day anchorman tour.

"No, because at that time I wasn't in AFTRA," Zenker said. "I was a company man...there was no bad feeling about me then. I was just a management person doing my job."

He said A. W. Minnini, Mrs. Donahey's part-time personnel director and administrative aide, wanted Sensenbrenner to get the job. Portman said he nixed the idea.

Mrs. Donahey said she didn't know anything about the vacancy, claiming she asked for the resignations because she didn't think it looked good for the state to do business with the relative of an employee.

"She doesn't know what a conflict of interest is about and she had better learn fast," said the council president. He claims Minnini is part of a conflict by also being a member of the Franklin County Board of Elections.

That group is the hard-core forces lead by Rep. Robert E. Netzel of Laura.

Efforts to put a lid on the length of legislative sessions were expected to come up in both houses during the next session of the General Assembly.

Sen. Harry Armstrong, a Logan Republican, said he will offer a bill limiting them to six months the first year and a few weeks the second year.

Several House members have indicated they plan similar bills, although the time limit varies.

One of the three new Supreme Court justices who will take office in January credits his election to a member of the opposite party.

William Brown of Chillicothe, a Democrat, said he was elected primarily because of Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, a Republican.

"It was your name that put me there," said William Brown to Ted Brown.

"No, No," answered the secretary of state. "They thought they were voting for William J. Brown."

See Veterinarians Shunning Large Animal Treatment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A sick dog or cat in Ohio gets taken to the veterinarian. Cows and horses aren't always so lucky.

Veterinary students in growing numbers are shunning the study of large animal ailments and concentrating on preparation for lucrative treatment of city-bred beasts.

The result is that farmers in a number of rural areas of the state don't have the medical care they need for their live stock.

The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation claims that fewer than two out of every 100 veterinary graduates in recent months have taken up large animal practice.

"I can't verify the percentages," says Ohio State University Veterinary College Assistant Dean William Johnson. "But more people do go into small animal practice than large and the number is increasing."

"It's a combination of things," he said. "One is that the urban practice is fairly large and the other is that people are bringing their animals to the facilities for diagnosis and treatment."

"The veterinarian in rural areas is in effect making house calls," Johnson added. "He has to go from farm to farm on problems that relate to herd health or individual animals. There's a lot of time consumed in that type of practice."

Johnson said he didn't think any area was completely without veterinary medical services, "but it's not as available to them as they would like or

as they need."

"There are two remedies," he said. "One is to produce more veterinarians."

The other, he said, is already being tried by the federal government.

"They're offering to students to excuse a percentage of their student loans up to 80 per cent if the student goes to an area where there's a shortage," Johnson said. "It's the same provision that applies to people physicians."

Johnson said the law hadn't been on the books long enough to make a dent in the problem yet, "but we think it does have merit and will show some favorable accomplishments in this area."

See Veterinarians Shunning Large Animal Treatment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A sick dog or cat in Ohio gets taken to the veterinarian. Cows and horses aren't always so lucky.

Veterinary students in growing numbers are shunning the study of large animal ailments and concentrating on preparation for lucrative treatment of city-bred beasts.

The result is that farmers in a number of rural areas of the state don't have the medical care they need for their live stock.

The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation claims that fewer than two out of every 100 veterinary graduates in recent months have taken up large animal practice.

"I can't verify the percentages," says Ohio State University Veterinary College Assistant Dean William Johnson. "But more people do go into small animal practice than large and the number is increasing."

"It's a combination of things," he said. "One is that the urban practice is fairly large and the other is that people are bringing their animals to the facilities for diagnosis and treatment."

"The veterinarian in rural areas is in effect making house calls," Johnson added. "He has to go from farm to farm on problems that relate to herd health or individual animals. There's a lot of time consumed in that type of practice."

Johnson said he didn't think any area was completely without veterinary medical services, "but it's not as available to them as they would like or

as they need."

"There are two remedies," he said. "One is to produce more veterinarians."

The other, he said, is already being tried by the federal government.

"They're offering to students to excuse a percentage of their student loans up to 80 per cent

if the student goes to an area where there's a shortage," Johnson said. "It's the same provision that applies to people physicians."

Johnson said the law hadn't been on the books long enough to make a dent in the problem yet, "but we think it does have merit and will show some favorable accomplishments in this area."

The Farm Bureau Federation passed a resolution at its annual meeting in Columbus asking OSU to consider establishment of a Department of Extension Veterinary Medicine.

Pepsi Generation Reaches Russia

PURCHASE, N.Y. (AP) — The Pepsi generation will find a Soviet branch on its family tree next year when Pepsi-Cola becomes the first American consumer product manufactured and sold in the Soviet Union.

Donald Kendall, chairman and chief executive officer of PepsiCo Inc., announced Thursday that an agreement had been signed with Soviet trade officials to place the soft drink on their domestic market.

As part of the pact, a PepsiCo subsidiary that already is the exclusive U.S. importer of Russian vodka will also become the sole American distributor of Soviet champagne, wine and brandy.

Heitzler Bid Turned Down

CINCINNATI (AP) — Suspended Hamilton Domestic Relations Court Judge George S. Heitzler has lost another federal appeal to prevent the Ohio Supreme Court from taking disciplinary action against him.

Associate U.S. Supreme Court Justice Byron R. White Tuesday denied his application for a stay order against the 6th U.S. District Court of Appeals in Cincinnati.

The appeals court threw out an injunction Heitzler won in U.S. District Court at Cleveland. The 6th Circuit ruled the federal courts had no right to interfere in a state court matter.

Heitzler, meanwhile, has until Monday to file additional briefs with the Ohio Supreme Court.

U.S. Arms Talk Chief No Nonsense Fellow

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A stern countenance peers down at employees of the U.S. Disarmament Agency from the official picture on the wall. It is that of their chief, Gerard C. Smith, a no-nonsense fellow who insists on trying to subdue the threat of nuclear war.

Smith headed the U.S. team which negotiated the first-of-its-kind U.S.-Soviet strategic-arms-limitation-talks (SALT) agreement for a first step in holding down the superpower weapons race.

Now President Nixon is sending the 58-year-old New Yorker to Geneva for a second SALT round starting Tuesday which promises to be as arduous as the first, three year session.

Smith's impeccable capitalist-family credentials (his father was a vice president and chief lawyer for General Motors) has proved no barrier to dealing with the communist Russians.

"The Soviets seem to like his down-to-earth approach," says one U.S. veteran of many a

National Institute Of Justice Caught In Executive Fire

DENVER (AP) — A top Nixon administration official says the proposed National Institute of Justice would be a "senseless waste."

But one of the chief backers, with good lines to the White House, isn't losing hope.

"We're just at the beginning of the beginning," said Washington lawyer Charles S. Rhyne, even as Jerris Leonard, head of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, was criticizing the proposal at a meeting here of leading judges from across the nation.

Rhyne, a close friend of President Nixon ever since they roomed together at the Duke University Law School, spoke fervently Friday of the need for an institute.

"People have lost confidence in our judicial system, and we have got to do something about it," said Rhyne, a former president of the American Bar Assomeeting between Smith's team and the Russians headed by Vladimir S. Semenov. "They don't like levity in these negotiations."

For Smith, broad-shouldered, graying and conventional-mannered, the life of a negotiator in a European capital is no rest cure. He figures he spent 450 nights in hotel rooms during lengthy SALT Phase 1 sessions in Helsinki and Vienna.

If he stayed home, he could relax oftener at one of his several residences—an embassy-size home in Washington's embassy area, a large estate on Maryland's Eastern Shore or his comfortable quarters at Southampton on Long Island.

But taking things easy is not for Smith, who hardly needs his $12,500 official salary for bread money and who has spent much of his life in public-affairs causes.

Smith himself rates awareness of what a nuclear holocaust would wreak as cause for commitment to work against such a catastrophe.

"Anyone who has seen a nuclear explosion," he told an interviewer, "has got to be impressed with the need for bringing the atom under control."

Smith got his lessons in what the atom can do after he left his successful New York law practice in 1950 to join the Atomic Energy Commission as a special assistant to Commissioner Thomas E. Murray.

Foreign Missionaries Shun Activity In Secular Issues

By BOB DOUGLAS
Associated Press Writer

OTTAWA (AP) — You are a Christian missionary in a developing country.

You see discrimination practices against a minority group. You see a small group of wealthy, politically-powerful people running the nation while the rest of the population is desperately poor.

What do you do?

Some modern missionaries have spoken strongly against these injustices. Some even have openly advocated revolutionary policies.

Often this means jail or expulsion from the country by the established powers.

In an interview, four Roman Catholic missionaries active in different parts of the world looked at this issue and decided that it is not the role of the foreign missionary to tell the nationals what to do.

On the other hand, they said, the missionary can have an indirect influence on events.

They were attending an intensive course on adaptation to cultures in developing countries. The course was sponsored by St. Paul University, a Catholic theological college in Ottawa, Canada.

The missionaries, all middle-aged, had been active for years in their own mission fields — Brother Louis Gallant in the Indian Ocean, Sister Mary Luke in Fiji, Rev. Malcolm Martin in Brazil and Rev. Thomas Louis Fortin in India.

They were all North Americans — Brother Gallant from Grand Digue, N.B., Sister Mary Luke from Buffalo, N.Y., Father Martin from New York City and Father Fortin from Montreal.

"I feel very strongly as a foreigner that you can't get involved politically in the affairs of Brazil," said Father Martin, a mild, scholarly-looking man.

"As far as trying to resolve a situation or overcome a difficult problem such as poverty or the political pressures in the nation, those who would disagree with national policies are thrown in jail.

"You have to help your people become aware of their situation of poverty, injustice and so on. You must look at it in terms of how they themselves can take the situation in hand."

Four years later he switched to the State Department where he gained a reputation as an idea man on practical arms-curb measures in an atomic age. During President Eisenhower's second term he was assistant secretary of State for policy planning.

As a Republican, Smith left federal ranks when the Democrats took over in 1961. But he kept active in the foreign-affairs field as a government consultant and as a private citizen.

He pushed the unsuccessful project for a multilateral nuclear force among the Atlantic allies. He founded a magazine, Interplay, aimed at promoting U.S.-European ties.

Others seemed to agree with this view.

Brother Gallant said a foreign missionary must face the fact that he is regarded as an intruder. He must win acceptance from the population before he can have any influence.

Report Delay In Cease-Fire Confusing Red Field Generals

WASHINGTON (AP) — A delay in signing the Vietnam ceasefire agreement appears to have caused indecision among North Vietnamese field commanders and forced them to make changes in their short-range battle plans, U.S. intelligence sources say.

Interrogation of prisoners taken since last October and analysis of enemy documents have convinced intelligence specialists that the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were preparing to launch a major military thrust shortly after the agreement was announced.

Purpose of the attack, the specialists say, would be to gain as much South Vietnamese territory as possible before the ceasefire actually went into effect—perhaps 24 hours after its announcement.

The North Vietnamese say the ceasefire agreement was to have been signed at the end of October. Since it was not, American analysts believe enemy commanders have been forced to change tactics to avoid large scale contact with South Vietnamese troops and to conserve artillery and small arms ammunition.

The analysts believe this is why the North Vietnamese have been vehement in accusing the United States of backing away from the October ceasefire date.

Supporting their theory, they say, is what appears to be a trend in recent weeks by the communist troops away from big enemy artillery bombbardments in favor of less expensive mortar attacks.

One recently captured document, described as coming from the communist command group in South Vietnam, reportedly said the ceasefire could be considered a transitional period to be followed ultimately by "greater victories."

At the same time, intelligence sources said, there are more frequent reports of confusion, disillusionment, and declining morale among enemy troops.

Delays In Judicial System Rapped In Lengthy Report

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A study of American courts authored primarily by a Case Western University law professor and two former students says the current judicial system often fails to achieve justice.

"We tried to point out disparities between the ideals of justice and its realities," said the professor, Lewis R. Katz. The study was funded by a $104,000 grant from the federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration.

Delays in disposal of felony cases were blamed as the chief cause of the legal system's problems, leading to what the study termed an inability to distinguish "between the innocent and the guilty."

But the study also noted that the American system of criminal justice "remains the most brilliantly devised method for administering justice in a free society" and that part of today's problems stem from participants in the system who believe "that delay serves their cause."

The report is being published in hardbound form as "Justice is the Crime: Pretrial Delay in Felony Cases."

In its in-depth study of 1,616 felony cases in Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court, the study found that it took an average of 245 days from arrest to conviction or acquittal and that one-third of the cases were left pending for more than a year.

More than 74 per cent of those who stood trial and were convicted received prison sentences, but only 49.5 per cent of those who pleaded guilty were sent to prison, the study said.

About one-fourth of the cases that went to trial were not disposed of until 400 or 500 days after the arrest. Some defendants had to wait more than 700 days before the case was concluded, the study said.

The study also criticized the current bail-bond system, arguing that it keeps the poor in jail and may convince an innocent but poor defendant to plead guilty.

Losing Candidate Continues Fight

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—When Socialist Workers party candidate Caryl Loeb failed to unseat the incumbent in the 22nd District congressional race, she wasted no tears.

Election Eve 1972, in fact, was "the most exciting night" of her life.

Democrat Charles A. Vanik buried Ms. Loeb and two other candidates with a vote total that nearly topped 100,000. Ms. Loeb and an American Independent party challenger each raked in about 3,000 votes, and the Republican candidate scraped together about 50,000.

Vanik won the election, but "I won something else that night. I helped build a new party. I turned a lot of people on to answers they hadn't thought about."

Nathaniel Hawthorne, the writer, died in 1864 at age 60.

But one of the chief backers, with good lines to the White House, isn't losing hope.

"We're just at the beginning of the beginning," said Washington lawyer Charles S. Rhyne, even as Jerris Leonard, head of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, was criticizing the proposal at a meeting here of leading judges from across the nation.

Rhyne, a close friend of President Nixon ever since they roomed together at the Duke University Law School, spoke fervently Friday of the need for an institute.

"People have lost confidence in our judicial system, and we have got to do something about it," said Rhyne, a former president of the American Bar Association. "The system of delivery of justice has broken down. Our whole system is out of date and out of step."

As proposed, the institute would explore problems common to all courts and would have the authority and the money to make grants for court improvement.

"Millions will have to go into the courts," Rhyne said. "Millions will have to go into corrections systems, into law enforcement, into legal education."

The idea of a National Institute of Justice got moving about six years ago within the ABA. U.S. Supreme Court Chief Justice Warren Burger has given the idea a qualified endorsement.

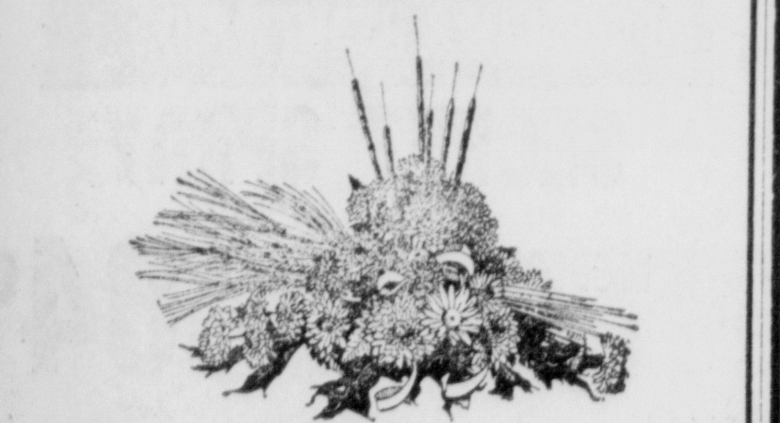

But, among state judges and within the LEAA, which was set up by Congress in 1968 to help improve the justice system, there is strong opposition and resentment.

NEW ON PATROL — Two new Ohio Highway Patrol officers have joined the ranks of the local post, both recent graduates of the Patrol Academy. At left is Charles William Cubbison, 21, a former Cambridge carpenter and Vietnam veteran, serving two years with the U.S. Navy. Married, he and his wife Patricia are the parents of two sons, Charles II and Marc. They live at 532 Nicholas Drive, Phillip R. Long, right, who makes his home at Route 3 with his wife Judith and sons Phillip Craig and Mark. Allen moved here from the Londonderry area and a job at the Chillicothe Wear ever Aluminum plant. He has completed six years in the U.S. Army reserve.

RECORD PERFORMANCE—Harolt (Champ) Benson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Benson, Route 1, Ashville, established an Ohio State University touchdown record and took over the scoring lead in the nation Saturday at Northwestern. Benson crossed the goal line four times, bringing his TD total to 19, two more than the previous record of 17 held jointly by Jim Otis and John Brockington. He carried the ball 41 times (also an OSU record) and gained 153 yards, bringing his total for the year to 759, best on the Buckeye squad. A graduate of Teays Valley High School, his prep coach was Dick Kidwell.

Michigan, OSU Clash For Bowl

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
Michigan and Ohio State had to do some huffing and puffing but, as expected and as usual, they'll battle on the final Saturday of the season to settle the Big Ten title and Rose Bowl bid.

Michigan's Wolverines clinched at least a share of the crown with a last minute 9-6 victory over Purdue and Ohio State had to pull out all stops and even resort to passing to defeat aroused Northwestern 27-14.

Michigan State's boast to give retiring Duffy Daugherty victories in his last four games fell flat at Minnesota where the Gophers came up with a 14-10 triumph. Illinois made it three straight with a 27-7 decision over Wisconsin and Indiana held off Iowa 16-8.

Michigan goes into Saturday's finale at Columbus ranked No. 3 nationally with a sparkling 10-0 record and a 7-0 mark in the Big Ten. Ohio State is 8-1 and 6-1 in the Big Ten.

A Michigan triumph would give the Wolverines their second straight undisputed conference crown and send them winging west for the Rose Bowl meeting against powerful Southern California. A victory for Ohio State would give the Buckeyes a share of the crown and the bowl bid since the bowl representative would be determined by what the two teams did against each other.

UCLA Voted Top Basketball Team; OSU Ranked 10th

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
UCLA has been voted the No. 1 college basketball team in this year's Associated Press pre-season poll but Coach John Wooden isn't especially optimistic.

As has been his customary, modest posture through the years, Wooden is making no predictions for the 1972-73 season. "I never start thinking and I won't be quoted about the national scene," said Wooden after learning of the poll results Sunday.

He will, however, confess that the Bruins are not a bad team.

"Yes, I think we will be respectable," says Wooden. The Top Twenty, with first-place votes in parentheses, and total season's records and total points. Points tabulated on basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1.

Vancouver Canucks Defeat Sabres, 9-5

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"Four." No, it's not a golf cry—but rather the number of goals that Bobby Schumacher scored for the Vancouver Canucks Sunday night.

Dolphins Top Jets, 28-24; Win Division

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
After intercepting a swarm of Jets, the Miami Dolphins are taking off into the National Football League's wild, blue yonder.

It's Super Bowl or bust, says Coach Don Shula. "We've got to get this football team ready to start the playoffs," said Shula after his tough guys won the American Football Conference's Eastern Division title with a 28-24 decision over the New York Jets Sunday.

Shula made it plain that he wouldn't take anything less than a return-trip ticket to the NFL's championship game. The Dolphins were humiliated in the Big One last year by the Dallas Cowboys.

"Sure, winning a division championship is important,"

said Shula, "But now we've got the second season to think about."

In winning the division title over their closest pursuers, the Dolphins grabbed their 10th straight division title. With four more games to go, they threaten to become only the third team in NFL history to finish a regular season undefeated.

While Miami ran away and hid from its opponents in the AFC East, the NFL's remaining division titles were still up for grabs after Sunday's action.

The Cleveland Browns bounced the Pittsburgh Steelers 26-24 and threw their AFC Central race into a tie; Oakland crushed Denver 37-20 and moved 1 1/2 games up on the Kansas City Chiefs in the AFC West. The Chiefs were beaten

27-17 by the San Diego Chargers.

In the National Football Conference, the Dallas Cowboys smashed the Philadelphia Eagles 28-7 and moved within a half-game of front-running Washington in the East. The Redskins play a game tonight against the Atlanta Falcons, who are tied for first in the West.

Los Angeles fell into a tie with Atlanta after dropping a 45-41 decision to the Minnesota Vikings. Green Bay held onto first in the Central by one game after beating the Houston Oilers 23-10.

In the other games Sunday, it was: Baltimore 20, Cincinnati 19; Buffalo 27, New England 24; Detroit 27, New Orleans 14; New York 13, St. Louis 7 and San Francisco 34, Chicago 21.

Safety Dick Anderson set up two Miami touchdowns with a pass interception and fumble recovery as the Dolphins beat the Jets in a heart-stopping game decided in the closing quarter.

With the Jets leading 24-21 in the last period, Anderson fell on a fumble by the Jets' Cliff McLain at the New York 27.

Four plays later, Mercury Morris ran 14 yards around the left side for the winning touchdown.

Don Cockroft kicked a 26-yard field goal with eight seconds left in the game to lift Cleveland over Pittsburgh. The Browns rallied to win it after blowing a 17-point lead.

"They refused to settle for anything but a victory," said Cleveland Coach Nick Skorich.

Oakland's Charlie Smith and Mary Hubbard combined for 185 yards rushing and scored a touchdown apiece to lead Oakland over Denver. George Blanda kicked three field goals and also kicked four extra points for Oakland to become the NFL's all-time leader in career conversions with 812.

Quarterback John Hadl and running star Cid Edwards clicked on several key pass plays that gave San Diego a comfortable 24-7 advantage after two quarters and Kansas City never could recover.

Dallas' famed Domsday Defense frustrated Philadelphia's ground and air attack in soundly beating the Eagles Sunday. The rugged Cowboys held the Eagles to 120 yards rushing and 85 passing.

Minnesota's Fran Tarkenton threw TD bombs of 76, 70 and 66 yards to spark the Vikings

over Los Angeles.

Green Bay punter Ron Widby completed a 68-yard touchdown pass play to Dave Davis on a fake punt and John Stagers returned a punt 85 yards for another score as Green Bay whipped Houston.

Jim O'Brien kicked the second of his two field goals as the final gun sounded to lead Baltimore over Cincinnati. Buffalo scored 10 points in the final minute of play on a Dennis Shaw TD pass and a 45-yard field goal by John Leypoldt.

Greg Landry fired two TD passes in the first half and rolled up 207 aerial yards overall as Detroit beat New Orleans. Ron Johnson scored the winning touchdown in the New York Giants' triumph over St. Louis and San Francisco clubbed Chicago behind Steve Spurrier's five TD passes.

Colts Edge Bengals In 20-19 Game

CINCINNATI (AP) — Baltimore's Ted Hendricks blocked a Cincinnati Bengals extra point kick in the fading moments of a tense National Football League battle Sunday, then was surprised as he glanced at the Riverfront Stadium scoreboard.

"I didn't even know what the score was," the 6-foot-7, 220-pound linebacker said. "When I saw it was 19-17, I knew we still had a chance to win."

Which is exactly what the Colts did. They took the ensuing Bengals kickoff, drove downfield in the final 91 seconds and Jim O'Brien booted a 25-yard goal on the game's final play for a 20-19 Colt victory.

Bengals Coach Paul Brown, who saw his young team drop to a 5-5 record and remain two full games behind Pittsburgh and Cleveland in the American Football Conference's Central Division, said he wasn't surprised.

"They've got a lot of old veteran guys who've been through the mill," Brown said in the Bengals' hushed dressing room. "They responded to it and that's about it."

If there were a key figure in the effort that saw the Colts lift their record to 3-7 it was Hendricks, the stork-like left side linebacker who, according to Baltimore Coach John Sandusky, "makes things happen."

It was Hendricks who was in the right spot when the Bengals Ron Carpenter blocked O'Brien's 33-yard field goal attempt late in the third period. The ball sailed into Hendricks' hands and the lanky linebacker rumbled for a Colt first down at the Cincinnati 23.

Given a second chance, the Colts moved to the go-ahead touchdown with little-used rookie Lydell Mitchell slamming the final 11 yards for a 17-13 Baltimore lead.

But the Mustangs began to battle back. With Mike Peterson, Artie Dick and Greg McKay connecting from the floor and foul line, Westfall cut the margin to 24-16 at the half.

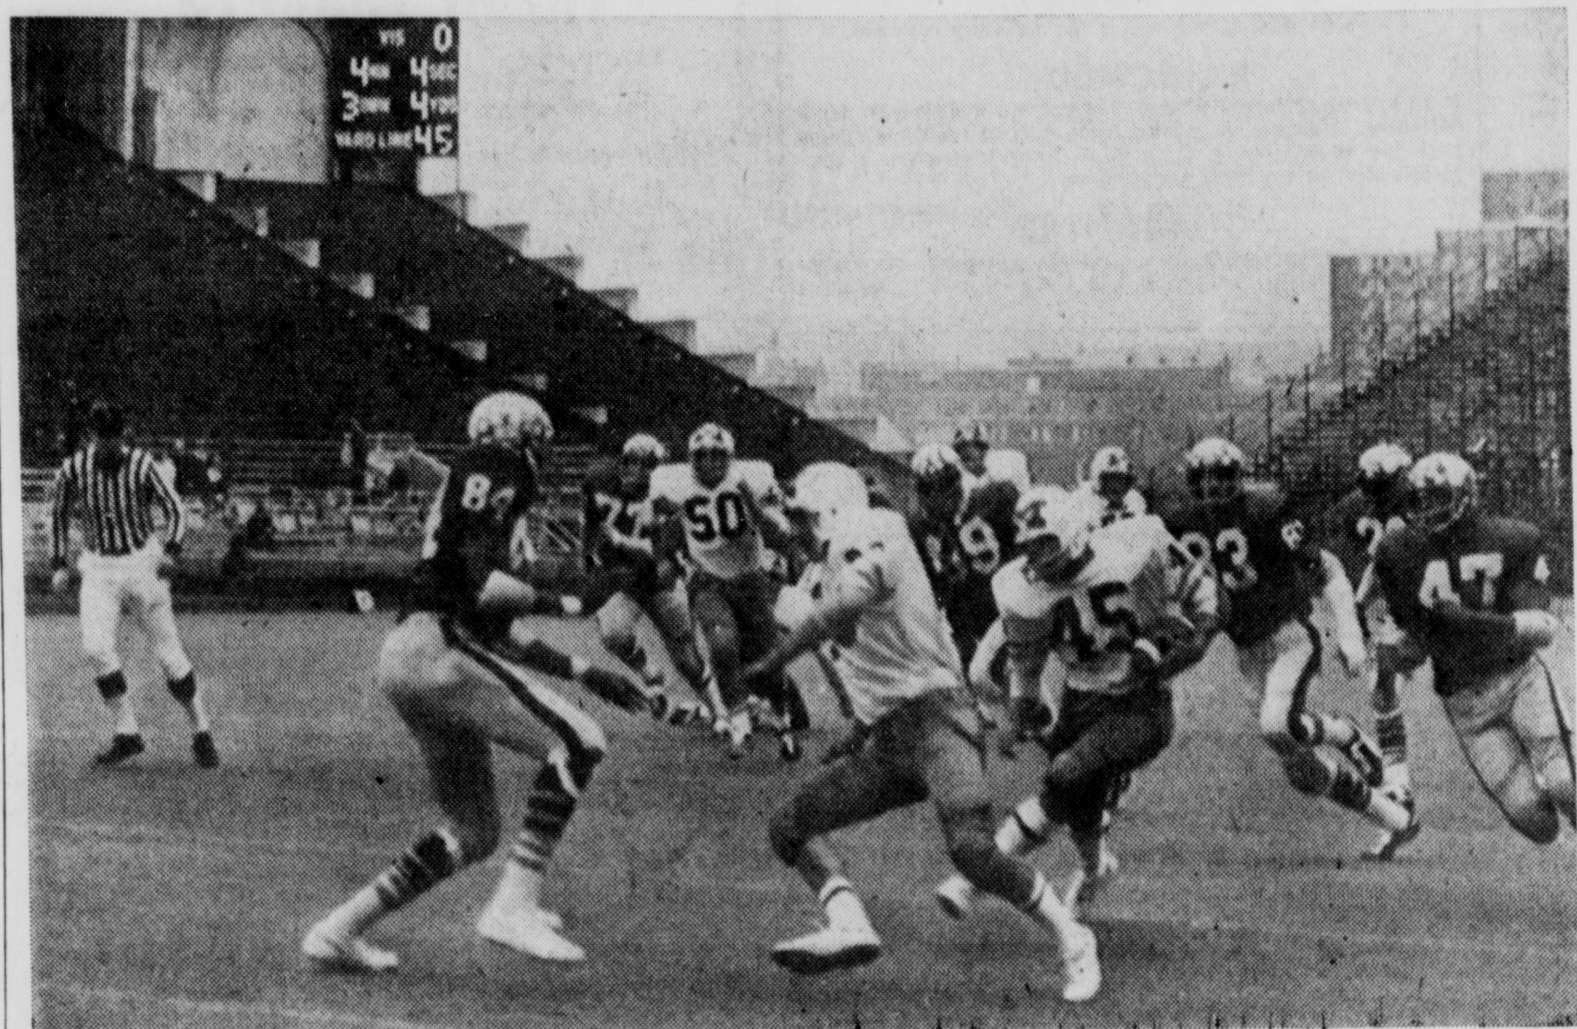

They continued to strike back in the third frame with Ted Musselman, Peterson and Marc Easterday putting the points on the board. The Mustangs only trailed 34-29 at the finish of the third frame.

KSU Wins MAC Title

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Kent State's "new season" proved a rousing success, climaxed with the school's first Mid-American Conference football championship.

The Flashes, pegged for last, chopped down Toledo 27-9 Saturday to wrap up their best conference record of 4-1 and earn a trip to the Tangerine Bowl.

That was the lone Mid-American contest. In non-conference activity, Western Michigan beat Idaho 27-16, Miami of Ohio blanked Cincinnati 23-0, Ohio University took a 31-14 welt from Marshall and Bowling Green lost at Tampa 29-22.

Kent was only 1-3-1 after a 13-12 home setback to Western Michigan when the Flashes coaches did some tall thinking.

"Six weeks ago we decided we could play with anybody and win our last six games. We felt we should start a new season," Kent Coach Don James recalled.

Cleveland whipped Atlanta 109-98 and Seattle downed Buffalo 107-84 in Sunday's other NBA games. In the American Basketball Association, the New York Nets edged Kentucky 118-115, Memphis downed Virginia 130-118 and San Diego took Denver in overtime 122-116.

Led by Gail Goodrich and Jim McMillian, who hit for 24 and 9 points, respectively, the Lakers rolled up a 68-43 half-time lead and let the reserves take over after that. Leroy Ellis topped the 76ers with 20 points.

Austin Carr, with 26, and Dwight Davis, with 25, combined for 51 points to lead Cleveland over the Hawks. The Cavaliers opened an 18-point lead in the last quarter. Lou Hudson of the Hawks was high for the gain, with 26 while Peac Maravich added 22.

Their current streak started Oct. 29 against Phoenix and reached 10 Sunday night with a 135-95 rout of Philadelphia. The Lakers now have won 15 of their last 16 games. Their last defeat came at the hands of Golden State.

Michigan, OSU Clash For Bowl

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
Michigan and Ohio State had to do some huffing and puffing but, as expected and as usual, they'll battle on the final Saturday of the season to settle the Big Ten title and Rose Bowl bid.

Michigan's Wolverines clinched at least a share of the crown with a last minute 9-6 victory over Purdue and Ohio State had to pull out all stops and even resort to passing to defeat aroused Northwestern 27-14.

Michigan State's boast to give retiring Duffy Daugherty victories in his last four games fell flat at Minnesota where the Gophers came up with a 14-10 triumph. Illinois made it three straight with a 27-7 decision over Wisconsin and Indiana held off Iowa 16-8.

Michigan goes into Saturday's finale at Columbus ranked No. 3 nationally with a sparkling 10-0 record and a 7-0 mark in the Big Ten. Ohio State is 8-1 and 6-1 in the Big Ten.

A Michigan triumph would give the Wolverines their second straight undisputed conference crown and send them winging west for the Rose Bowl meeting against powerful Southern California. A victory for Ohio State would give the Buckeyes a share of the crown and the bowl bid since the bowl representative would be determined by what the two teams did against each other.

UCLA Voted Top Basketball Team; OSU Ranked 10th

UCLA has been voted the No. 1 college basketball team in this year's Associated Press pre-season poll but Coach John Wooden isn't especially optimistic.

As has been his customary, modest posture through the years, Wooden is making no predictions for the 1972-73 season.

"I never start thinking and I won't be quoted about the national scene," said Wooden after learning of the poll results Sunday.

He will, however, confess that the Bruins are not a bad team.

"Yes, I think we will be respectable," says Wooden.

Dolphins Top Jets, 28-24; Win Division

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
After intercepting a swarm of Jets, the Miami Dolphins are taking off into the National Football League's wild, blue yonder.

It's Super Bowl or bust, says Coach Don Shula.
"We've got to get this football team ready to start the playoffs," said Shula after his tough guys won the American Football Conference's Eastern Division title with a 28-24 decision over the New York Jets Sunday.

Shula made it plain that he wouldn't take anything less than a return-trip ticket to the NFL's championship game. The Dolphins were humiliated in the Big One last year by the Dallas Cowboys.

"Sure, winning a division championship is important,"

said Shula. "But now we've got the second season to think about."

In winning the division title over their closest pursuers, the Dolphins grabbed their 10th straight decision this year. With four more games to go, they threaten to become only the third team in NFL history to finish a regular season undefeated.

While Miami ran away and hid from its opponents in the AFC East, the NFL's remaining division titles were still up for grabs after Sunday's action.

The Cleveland Browns bounced the Pittsburgh Steelers 26-24 and threw their AFC Central race into a tie; Oakland crushed Denver 37-20 and moved 1 1/2 games up on the Kansas City Chiefs in the AFC West. The Chiefs were beaten

27-17 by the San Diego Chargers.

In the National Football Conference, the Dallas Cowboys smashed the Philadelphia Eagles 28-7 and moved within a half-game of front-running Washington in the East. The Redskins play a game tonight against the Atlanta Falcons, who are tied for first in the West.

Los Angeles fell into a tie with Atlanta after dropping a 45-41 decision to the Minnesota Vikings. Green Bay held onto first in the Central by one game after beating the Houston Oilers 23-10.

In the other games Sunday, it was: Baltimore 20, Cincinnati 19; Buffalo 27, New England 24; Detroit 27, New Orleans 14; New York 13, St. Louis 7 and San Francisco 34, Chicago 21.

Safety Dick Anderson set up two Miami touchdowns with a pass interception and fumble recovery as the Dolphins beat the Jets in a heart-stopping game decided in the closing quarter.

With the Jets leading 24-21 in the last period, Anderson fell on a fumble by the Jets' Cliff McLain at the New York 27.

Four plays later, Mercury Morris ran 14 yards around the left side for the winning touchdown.

Don Cockroft kicked a 26-yard field goal with eight seconds left in the game to lift Cleveland over Pittsburgh. The Browns rallied to win it after blowing a 17-point lead.

"They refused to settle for anything but a victory," said Cleveland Coach Nick Skorich.

Oakland's Charlie Smith and Marv Hubbard combined for 185 yards rushing and scored a touchdown apiece to lead Oakland over Denver. George Blanda kicked three field goals and also kicked four extra points for Oakland to become the NFL's all-time leader in career conversions with 812.

Quarterback John Hadl and running star Cid Edwards clicked on several key pass plays that gave San Diego a comfortable 24-7 advantage after two quarters and Kansas City never could recover.

Dallas' famed Doomsday Defense frustrated Philadelphia's ground and air attack in soundly beating the Eagles Sunday. The rugged Cowboys held the Eagles to 120 yards rushing and 85 passing.

Minnesota's Fran Tarkenton threw TD bombs of 76, 70 and 65 yards to spark the Vikings

over Los Angeles.
Green Bay punter Ron Widby completed a 68-yard touchdown pass play to Dave Davis on a fake punt and John Staggers returned a punt 85 yards for another score as Green Bay whipped Houston.

Jim O'Brien kicked the second of his two field goals as the final gun sounded to lead Baltimore over Cincinnati. Buffalo scored 10 points in the final minute of play on a Dennis Shaw TD pass and a 45-yard field goal by John Leyboldt.

Greg Landry fired two TD passes in the first half and rolled up 207 aerial yards overall as Detroit beat New Orleans; Ron Johnson scored the winning touchdown in the New York Giants' triumph over St. Louis and San Francisco clubbed Chicago behind Steve Spurrier's five TD passes.

A title on the door... rates a Bigelow on the floor

P.S. Now here's a dentist who understands a patient! He puts Bigelow carpet under their feet to take their minds off the drilling upstairs. What a clever way to fight terror in the waiting room and anguish in the chair. Bigelow carpet feels so deliciously soft and warm and secure, it acts like a tranquilizer. Eastern Ohio Prep All-Star Team Named

By GEORGE STRODE
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Bob Kettler of Wintersville is the Associated Press Ohio Eastern District Class AAA high school football coach of the year in a close race.

Kettler, who led Wintersville to an 8-0-2 season, barely beat out Ron Apperson of Zanesville, whose Blue Devils were 8-2-0 and snapped Upper Arlington's five-year Central Ohio title reign.

Newcomerstown, which rolled by 10 straight foes, swept the Class A honors in the Eastern area.

Wine Outlook In France; Good, But Not Great Year

By JOHN VINOCUR
Associated Press Writer
BORDEAUX, France (AP) — Whatever nature does to grapes in France, the men who make wine out of them always describe their product as "honest."

Come real disaster, like hail or the Romans invading to burn the Gauls' vines, a vintner can always say: "It was a better year than expected."

To describe 1972, winegrowers can use both phrases. Some bad weather in the spring gave many a very late start and a real scare. But the grapes made out all right, harvests seemed adequate and 1972 on the whole looks like a good but not great year in satisfactory quantities.

Here is a survey of some of the main wine producing areas:

Bordeaux — Winegrower and merchant Bernard Ginestet said that 1972 "was an improvement over '71 for the region in terms of quantity but not enough to make any dent in terms of the very steep Bordeaux prices. Quality is described locally as promising."

Alsace — The harvest was expected to be reasonably abundant, which might tend to stabilize the price of Alsatian white wines. They have gone up 85 per cent over the last decade. "Without pretending to be particularly flattering, the vintage will be fresh and balanced, typical Alsace, in other words," said Marcel Blanck, president of the Alsace Winegrowers Association.

Beaujolais — "The 1972 Beaujolais will be light, fruity, wide-awake and easy flowing without having any pretensions about being an unusual vintage," said Gerard Canard of the Beaujolais Growers Association. Quantity is described as adequate. Some non-Beaujolais growers are saying the quality is not too hot.

Burgundy — After a good summer, September rains made problems for the Nuits Saint Georges, Beaune and Gevray Chambertins. The harvest was described as high in alcohol content and reasonably abundant. Prices generally were not rising as fast as in Bordeaux.

Champagne — Although the 1972 harvest was pegged as twice the size of the previous year, quality was just middling as a result of hail and late frosts that hit the vineyards. The price of the Champagne grapes was up by 22 per cent. Chateaufort du Pape — Described by Paul Avril, president of the local winegrowers association, as being "an exceptional year for quality although the quantity is very irregular" — which usually translates as expensive.

Male 'Cabin Attendant' Finds Air Passengers Unbelieving

By CHET CURRIER
Associated Press Writer
KANSAS CITY (AP) — His coworkers get their share of smiles, but Mike Parke often has to settle for a blank stare.

The trouble is, it isn't until about takeoff time that a good many passengers figure out what he's doing on the plane.

Parke, 23 and fresh out of college, is what they used to call an airline stewardess. Now it's "cabin attendant" or "flight attendant."

Parke joined Trans World Airlines immediately after finishing at the University of Kansas last May and had his first working flight in July.

Some airlines always have had men in such capacities, primarily on overseas runs. In the first days of passenger flights, men actually held a large percentage of the cabin jobs.

But that's quite apparently just history to many modern passengers, who expect to get their coffee, tea or milk from a pretty girl.

"A lot of people still don't know who we are," Parke acknowledged with a smile.

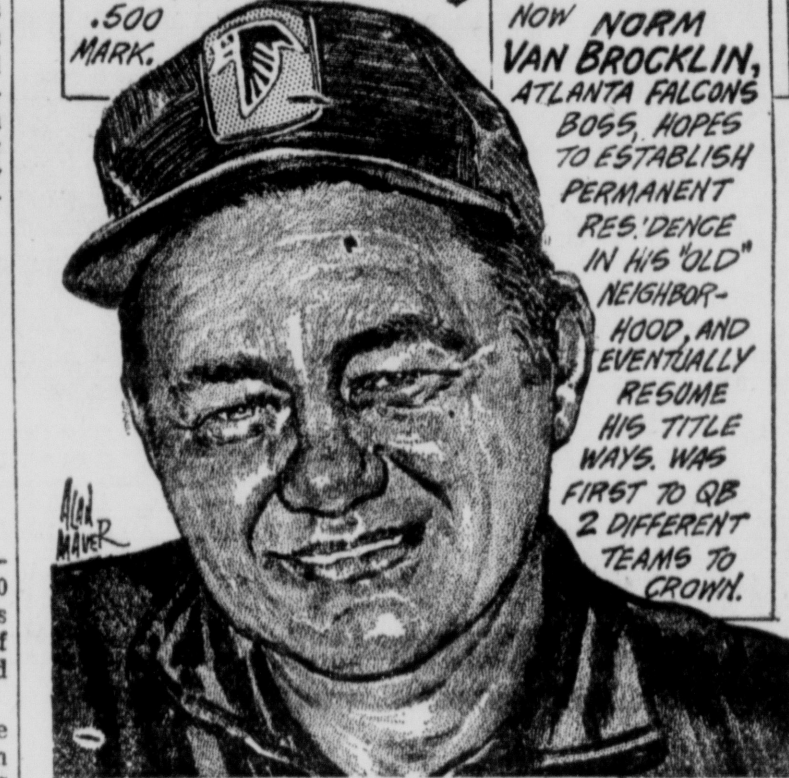

"And even if they do, they're usually not sure what to call us. I guess 'host' is the one I hear most."

"Usually they won't say anything to me, but they'll go up to one of the girls and say something like, 'What is this, Men's Lib?'"

Mike says one of his worst moments comes as he takes his customary station in the aisle for the preflight demonstration of emergency equipment. More often than he cares to remember, the hostess on the public address system, running through her speech from memory, has announced: "Now, if you will please give your attention to the hostess at the front of the cabin, she will demonstrate..."

Philae Temple Workers Get U.N. Rations

ASWAN, Egypt (AP) — Gaber Mohamed lifted the 100 pound sack of wheat to his shoulder and collected a tin of butter, a packet of sugar and one of tea.

A few feet away, just outside the U.S. World Food Program (WFP) office, Am Aly was loading his rations on a donkey for the trip home to his wife and three children.

This was the scene as the U.N. agency distributed the first rations to 500 workers engaged in preparing a new site for the 2,000-year-old temples of Philae, endangered by the waters of the Nile river. The new site is the Isle of Agilkia, 500 meters away from the partially submerged temples.

The WFP is contributing $2.4 million in food to the workers over the course of the five-year salvage project.

"We want to attach the laborers to the project through their stomach... in this case to save the ancient heritage," says Gamal Harbi, resident WFP representative.

Most of the men helped build the Egyptian-Soviet Aswan High Dam, within sight up river from the temples. Their forefathers helped the British build the Aswan low dam, just down river, in 1902.

They are no strangers to the burning sun and desert heat of Aswan, and the cold clear rushing waters of the Nile which have swirled around the temples nine months a year for the last 70 years.

Harbi hopes that the restoration of Philae temples, and their removal to the nearby dry site will attract new swarms of tourists to Aswan.

A few miles upstream from this riverside town in the desert, steel derricks break the skyline above the temples as bargemen prepare trenches for steel plates of a cofferdam.

A deafening explosion of 1,500 pounds of dynamite brings shouts of joy from the workers, as a job which would take weeks with pick and air hammer is done in moments — loosening more rock from the island to which the temples are to be moved.

Proceeds from the King Tut Ankhamen exhibit at the British Museum and pledges of contribution from some 20 countries are to finance the $14 million move and renovation.

11 points and some aggressive floor play, Peterson added 10 markers, Musselman, McKay and Clark each had four, E. sterday three and Jim Wright tallied one point.

JERRY DeM. and Erid Alexander hooped 14 points apiece for the Lakers with Dana Wheatstone adding 13 and Larry Delt adding 10 to pace the Millersport attack.

Westfall found the lid on the basket as the Mustangs only hit 14 of 61 from the floor and 9 of 18 from the foul line.

Millersport fared a little better with 24 of 54 from the field but only converted 10 of 23 from the charity stripe.

In the rebounding department, Millersport had 44 while Westfall had 37. Westfall's Clark and Millersport's Alexander shared honors with 14 grabs apiece.

Westfall's reserves gained a measure of revenge with a 39-24 win over the Millersport junior varsity.

Tony Mosely and Mike Malone each netted 12 points for the Mustangs while Mike Keller and Ron Wagner had nine points apiece for the Lakers.

Westfall is now 0-2 for the season and will host the Circleville Tigers Saturday night.

WRECKED CAR—Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Warren Straley checks distance car driven by Walter Michels, 40, Columbus, skidded before striking a car operated by Jean Blackburn, 43, Route 5. Deputies say the accident occurred when Mrs. Blackburn pulled her car into the path of Michels' auto on Route 23, south of the city.

Weekend Wrecks Willy... Injure 16 People

Sixteen people were injured in 11 traffic accidents on Pickaway County roads last weekend. Half of those injured were hurt in a single accident as the two cars involved carried a total of 15 people.

The first accident occurred 2 p.m. Saturday on Route 23 at the shopping center entrance south of the city.

Deputy Bob Hoover charged Jean N. Blackburn, 43, Route 5, with failure to yield the right of way after she pulled her station wagon into the path of a south bound auto driven by Walter Michels, 40, Columbus.

Mrs. Blackburn was treated for left leg injuries. Her husband, a passenger in the car, was treated for rib injuries.

Michels, whose car was demolished, suffered a lacerated chin. His passenger, Harold Michels, 45, Pataskala, complained of elbow pains.

Deputy Sheriff Bill Dountz charged Lloyd R. Kearns, 45, Atlanta, with failing to maintain assured clear distance when he slammed his station wagon, carrying 9 people, into the rear of a car driven by Charles S. Blake, Columbus, which was carrying six people.

The accident occurred 4:46 p.m. Saturday on Route 22, east of Locust Grove-Dublin Hill Road, when Blake was stopped for a left turn.

Deputy Dountz said Kerns' car skidded 325 feet before striking Blake's car, knocking both vehicles into separate ditches.

Passengers injured in Kearns car were Darrell Showalter, 31, S. Solon, head injuries; Wilma Showalter, 27, Atlanta, shoulder injuries; Lucille Kearns, 49, Atlanta, dislocated right thumb. Passengers unhurt were Hollie Showalter, 45, S. Solon; Albert Showalter, 41, S. Solon; Ricky Jester, 16, New Holland; Belinda Showalter, 2, Atlanta; and Doris Showalter, 24, Atlanta.

All passengers in Blake's auto were treated for minor bumps. They are Wanda Blackburn, 16, Columbus; Charles Klob, 19, Linda Klob, 19; Rene Klob, 2; and Charles Klob Jr., 3.

Lawrence Smith, 37, Route 1, Stoutsville, suffered a lacerated forehead when he lost control of his car 8:59 p.m. Saturday on the Circleville-Groveport Road.

Deputy Paul Brown, who charged him with reckless operation, said he was south bound on the road, just south of the St. Paul Rd. junction, when his car crossed the center line, went off the road on the left side 32 feet farther, and came to rest 129 feet from the road.

The car destroyed six rods of fence and six posts owned by Russell Perrill, Route 1, Ashville.

Enterprises and three crewmen set sail from Fiji for a two-day, 380-mile voyage to the reefs.

Once there, they laid claim to the reefs in the name of the Republic of Minerva and raised the Minervan flag — a gold torch of liberty on a blue (for the sea) background which was designed by Davis.

But King Tupou IV of Tonga, general of the 100-man Tonga Defense Force, led an expeditionary band accompanied by Tonga police in June and declared Tongan sovereignty over the reefs.

"We researched the reefs thoroughly," Davis said. "Tonga's boundaries of all rocks, reefs, foreshores and waters have been spelled out in royal proclamations ever since 1887. Minerva is missed by 100 miles."

Davis said the Republic of Minerva plans to negotiate with the king. "We certainly don't want to go to war over it," Davis would not say however, if he is prepared to go to war if necessary.

Meanwhile, Caribbean-Pacific Enterprises plans to start work on a major landfill operation next April.

"We hope to dredge sand in the lagoons and build a 1,000-to 2,000-foot-wide, 10-to 15-foot high surface on which to locate our country," Davis said.

He said Minerva could hold a population of 250,000 using the concept of a "sea city" — a large outer shell built on pilings — although the president admits that "it would be rather cramped."

Using more conventional construction, Minerva probably will hold a population of from 30,000 to 50,000 persons, Davis said. He would not estimate, however, how much money Caribbean-Pacific Enterprises expects to make through the sale of land.

"The whole world will soon sit up and take notice of Minerva," Davis said. "Within five years at least 1,000 ships will be flying the Minervan flag."

Minerva's 19-page constitution, which Davis wrote, says in part:

"We're firm believers in a minimum of government. The government to our way of thinking has one function — to protect its citizens from force and fraud."

"There will be no taxes in Minerva. People will be free to do as they damn please without government interference. The government will provide no guarantees for the welfare of its citizens. That will be left to the citizens..."

"Nothing will be illegal as long as it does not infringe on the rights of others."

President Lincoln allowed 39 Santee Sioux to be executed in 1862 after several battles with settlers and U.S. Army troops.

Victory was believed to have been the 2 million voters added to the rolls by lowering the voting age from 21 to 18.

But Brandt obviously gained ground over a wide social spectrum. He disproved several West German election adages — among them, that a high voter turnout favors the conservatives, and that women prefer to vote conservative. Brandt's coalition increased its share of the vote from 48.5 per cent in 1969 to 58.3 per cent despite an unusually high turnout of 91.2 per cent and although eligible women voters outnumbered men 21.8 million to 19 million.

The victory means Brandt will no longer have to worry about governing with a shaky parliamentary majority. He upped his coalition's lead over the opposition in the 496-member Bundestag from 12 to 48 seats, giving him a secure legislative margin.

Golf In Swamp

(AP)—What do you do with swampy land? Build a golf course on it, says Edward Lawrence Packard, a golf course architect. According to Packard, if land is too swampy for building purposes, it just might be ripe for a golf course. He says that wet areas can be dug out to form man-made lakes or graded higher for trees and fairways.

Mexican Boy, 7, Promises To Become Chess Champion

By JOHN LUMPKIN

Associated Press Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — His dark eyes did not show sadness after losing four consecutive games to opponents sometimes 50 years his elder, and chess remains the most important pursuit in the budding life of little Oscar.

Indeed, 7-year-old Oscar Alejandro Mass of Juarez, Mexico, will be back for more chess tournament competition, possibly next month, his sponsor says.

"He's a little innocent in the traps," says Filiberto Terrazas, a lawyer and teacher who took an interest in Oscar's career in "el ajedrez" — Spanish for chess.

Oscar "can calculate very well. He needs experience," said Terrazas during the open tournament in which Oscar participated here in conjunction with an invitational match held for 16 international chess masters.

Grandmaster Bent Larsen of Denmark, a player in the invitational, called Oscar "brilliant" and predicted a great future for him. Terrazas said. Little Oscar and Larsen sparred for several moves after a lunch the two had together Sunday.

In one game during what was Oscar's first formal tournament he played a man in his 60s, fighting off the opponent for almost 40 moves before being checkmated. "I lost the attack," explained Oscar.

Oscar said he learned chess at 5 after watching one of his older brothers play. Now he beats his five brothers and his father, an engineer. His mother and sister don't play.

"I do not want that he becomes so unilateral that the whole universe becomes a chess board," said Terrazas, who also is a chess player.

Little Oscar, asked what else besides chess he like to do, said "jugar con la pelota" — play with the ball.

Enterprises and three crewmen set sail from Fiji for a two-day, 380-mile voyage to the reefs.

Once there, they laid claim to the reefs in the name of the Republic of Minerva and raised the Minervan flag — a gold torch of liberty on a blue (for the sea) background which was designed by Davis.

But King Tupou IV of Tonga, general of the 100-man Tonga Defense Force, led an expeditionary band accompanied by Tonga police in June and declared Tongan sovereignty over the reefs.

"We researched the reefs thoroughly," Davis said. "Tonga's boundaries of all reefs, foreshores and waters have been spelled out in royal proclamations ever since 1887. Minerva is missed by 100 miles."

Davis said the Republic of Minerva plans to negotiate with the king. "We certainly don't want to go to war over it," Davis would not say however, if he is prepared to go to war if necessary.

Meanwhile, Caribbean-Pacific Enterprises plans to start work on a major landfill operation next April.

"We hope to dredge sand in the lagoons and build a 1,000-to 2,000-foot-wide, 10-to 15-foot high surface on which to locate our country," Davis said.

He said Minerva could hold a population of 250,000 using the concept of a "sea city" — a large outer shell built on pilings — although the president admits that "it would be rather cramped."

Using more conventional construction, Minerva probably will hold a population of from 30,000 to 50,000 persons, Davis said. He would not estimate, however, how much money Caribbean-Pacific Enterprises expects to make through the sale of land.

"The whole world will soon sit up and take notice of Minerva," Davis said. "Within five years at least 1,000 ships will be flying the Minervan flag."

Minerva's 19-page constitution, which Davis wrote, says in part:

"We're firm believers in a minimum of government. The government to our way of thinking has one function — to protect its citizens from force and fraud."

"There will be no taxes in Minerva. People will be free to do as they damn please without government interference. The government will provide no guarantees for the welfare of its citizens. That will be left to the citizens."

"Nothing will be illegal as long as it does not infringe on the rights of others."

Mexican Boy, 7, Promises To Become Chess Champion

By JOHN LUMPKIN

Associated Press Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — His dark eyes did not show sadness after losing four consecutive games to opponents sometimes 50 years his elder, and chess remains the most important pursuit in the budding life of little Oscar.

Indeed, 7-year-old Oscar Alejandro Mass of Juarez, Mexico, will be back for more chess tournament competition, possibly next month, his sponsor says.

"He's a little innocent in the traps," says Filiberto Terrazas, a lawyer and teacher who took an interest in Oscar's career in "el ajedrez" — Spanish for chess.

Oscar "can calculate very well. He needs experience," said Terrazas during the open tournament in which Oscar participated here in conjunction with an invitational match held for 16 international chess masters.

Grandmaster Bent Larsen of Denmark, a player in the invitational, called Oscar "brilliant" and predicted a great future for him, Terrazas said. Little Oscar and Larsen sparred for several moves after a lunch the two had together Sunday.

In one game during what was Oscar's first formal tournament he played a man in his 60s, fighting off the opponent for almost 40 moves before being checkmated. "I lost the attack," explained Oscar.

Oscar said he learned chess at 5 after watching one of his older brothers play. Now he beats his five brothers and his father, an engineer. His mother and sister don't play.

"I do not want that he becomes so unilateral that the whole universe becomes a chess board," said Terrazas, who also is a chess player.

Little Oscar, asked what else besides chess he like to do, said "jugar con la pelota" — play with the ball.

Weekend Wrecks Willy ... Injure 16 People

Sixteen people were injured in 11 traffic accidents on Pickaway County roads last weekend. Half of those injured were hurt in a single accident as the two cars involved carried a total of 15 people.

The first accident occurred 2 p.m. Saturday on Route 23 at the shopping center entrance south of the city.

Deputy Bob Hoover charged Jean N. Blackburn, 43, Route 5, with failure to yield the right of way after she pulled her station wagon into the path of a south bound auto driven by Walter Michels, 40, Columbus.

Mrs. Blackburn was treated for left leg injuries. Her husband, a passenger in the car, was treated for rib injuries. Michels, whose car was demolished, suffered a lacerated chin. His passenger, Harold Michels, 45, Pataskala, complained of elbow pains.

Deputy Sheriff Bill Dountz charged Lloyd R. Kearns, 43, Atlanta, with failing to maintain assured clear distance when he slammed his station wagon, carrying 9 people, into the rear of a car driven by Charles S. Blake, Columbus, which was carrying six people.

The accident occurred 4:46 p.m. Saturday on Route 22, east of Locust Grove-Dublin Hill Road, when Blake was stopped for a left turn.

Deputy Dountz said Kearns' car skidded 325 feet before striking Blake's car, knocking both vehicles into separate ditches.

Passengers injured in Kearns' car were Darrell Showalter, 31, S. Solon, head injuries; Wilma Showalter, 27, Atlanta, shoulder injuries; Lucille Kearns, 49, Atlanta, dislocated right thumb. Passengers unhurt were Hollie Showalter, 45, S. Solon; Alberta Showalter, 41, S. Solon; Ricky Jester, 16, New Holland; Belinda Showalter, 2, Atlanta; and Doris Showalter, 24, Atlanta.

All passengers in Blake's auto were treated for minor bumps. They are Wanda Blackburn, 16, Columbus; Charles Kloh, 19, Linda Kloh, 19, Rene Kloh, 2; and Charles Kloh Jr., 3.

Lawrence Smith, 37, Route 1, Stoutsville, suffered a lacerated forehead when he lost control of his car 8:50 p.m. Saturday on the Circleville-Groveport Road.

Deputy Phil Brown, who charged him with reckless operation, said he was south-bound on the road, just south of the St. Paul Rd. junction, when his car crossed the center line, went off the road on the left side 32 feet farther, and came to rest 129 feet from the road.

The car destroyed six rods of fence and six posts owned by Russell Perrill, Route 1, Ashville.

victory was believed to have been the 2 million voters added to the rolls by lowering the voting age from 21 to 18.

But Brandt obviously gained ground over a wide social spectrum. He disproved several West German election adages — among them, that a high voter turnout favors the conservatives, and that women prefer to vote conservative. Brandt's coalition increased its share of the vote from 48.5 per cent in 1969 to 58.3 per cent despite an unusually high turnout of 91.2 per cent and although eligible women voters outnumbered men 21.8 million to 19 million.

The victory means Brandt will no longer have to worry about governing with a shaky parliamentary majority. He upped his coalition's lead over the opposition in the 496-member Bundestag from 12 to 48 seats, giving him a secure legislative margin.

Golf In Swamp

(AP)—What do you do with swampy land? Build a golf course on it, says Edward Lawrence Packard, a golf course architect. According to Packard, if land is too swampy for building purposes, it just might be ripe for a golf course. He says that wet areas can be dug out to form man-made lakes or graded higher for trees and fairways.
